Preface

Always, in a work of this kind, there will exist the contrast between the finished product and the ideas or ideals which may have been entertained for it. The 1935 INDEX does not represent an attempt to achieve something in yearbook design which should come to be characterized as "different," but rather, an attempt to depart from ordinary yearbook design only insofar as that design should seem to conflict with a more or less vague conception of a book which might escape the fate of the conventional school annual. The main concern has been to present the story of the year's activities in a pictorial fashion, but, beyond that, it is our hope that the manner of that presentation may give the 1935 INDEX an appeal which will assure it of a more interesting fate.

COUNTRY—

The New Deal at Old Normal

The story of the infinite number of changes which have taken place at Illinois State Normal University since the arrival of President Raymond W. Fairchild would require a book in itself; we can only attempt to review for you the major changes which have been instituted under his leadership. And should we consider them as merely surface features we would be overlooking their real importance which is to be found in the conception of a newer education which is to slowly evolve as newer ideas are confirmed and united into an educational pattern, which will always more nearly reach to that something upon the horizon which promises life more richly coordinated and more truly enjoyed. And it is fine, is it not, to know that one's Alma Mater is progressing and assuming a place of growing importance, not only in the state, but just as truly in the national educational advancement. Illinois State Normal University, in the dimming past an object of nation-wide interest; has once again forged into a place of leadership among the teacher training institutions of the country.

Outstanding among the recent changes at Old Normal is the reorganization of the curriculum and the change to the semester basis which will go into effect in the fall of 1935. The past year has witnessed the semester plan in operation in the Training School. Of particular note in the curricular changes is the adoption of the idea of general cultural courses throughout the first two years of the four-year curriculum. The cultural background offered in the first two years of work provides a foundation upon which the more intensive study of the last two years may be based. The vast amount of labor required upon the part of administrators and instructors in the changing and rebuilding of courses which will coordinate with the semester plan has progressed rapidly and represents an epic change in the history of the school.

In redecorating Fell Hall, establishing Smith Hall, providing for a student lounge, adding such features as the Educational Library, the Social Science Library, new furniture in the main library, new social science classrooms, new faculty offices, new Index and Vidette offices, radio facilities, and new general office equipment, much has been done to improve educational and recreational advantages and to exercise administrative efficiency.

Smith Hall, the new dormitory for men of Illinois State Normal University was first opened in the fall of the school year just ending. It is located near the campus and was formerly one of Normal's most beautiful private homes, noted for its stateliness and for the beauty of its gardens. The newly-named University Club took the initiative in the establishment of the new hall.

The Student Lounge grew out of a desire for a place in which students could meet in an informal social way. The whole-hearted cooperation of the students and the faculty brought the realization of the desire, and students now have, not an ordinary lounge, but one which excels in its attractiveness.

Another of the outstanding improvements upon the campus is the new athletic field which has been constructed just south of McCormick gymnasium. Leveling and draining have been employed to complete this recent addition to Old Normal's advantages in physical training.

Old Main has regained much of her ancient glory beneath new trimmings of yellow and a dome of silver which rivals anything in the vicinity for real grandeur. (See frontispiece.)

Graduates of former years look with envy upon the new furniture which has taken the place of creaking chairs and tables which once dotted the reading room of the main library.

So the story goes on—new stairways to relieve congestion on the second floor, a new Home Management House on Mulberry Street, daily radio programs, a new cut system, new class hours, assemblies, new student-teaching arrangements—the list seems inexhaustible.

In the more intangible aspects of campus life we find a new emphasis upon widening of intellectual interests, a new consciousness of the common interest of all in extra-curricular activities made manifest in a new "School spirit," the sort of thing which has given Old Normal a decisive gridiron victory over her rivals from Wesleyan, and finally we find the effect of the newer curriculum as it is bringing the students of Illinois State Normal University a growing desire to understand the true mission of the teacher in a changing world.

Senior Class

The Senior Class, some two-hundred strong, started on the home stretch of its educational sojourn at Illinois State Normal University last September. At a meeting held early in the term William Samp, of Roscoe, was elected president of the group. At the same time Robert Foster, of Illiopolis, was elected vice president, and Helen Graff, of Minier, secretary-treasurer. Professor C. A. DeYoung was chosen faculty sponsor.

The Seniors claim many of the outstanding personalities of the school this year. Probably no member of the class has been active in more fields than Herbert Adams. "Herbie," besides being business manager of the Index, has acquitted himself well on the grid, and distinguished himself by his four years of stellar performance on the hardwood. He also finds time to fill a place on the tennis team and work on various social committees, and he is known as an all round good fellow.

William Samp, Senior president, is an active Wrightonian, and was a participant in the annual Phil-Wright contest for the past two years. Bill has a high scholastic average, belongs to several of the Greek letter organizations, and is an excellent debater. He was social chairman of the class last year and is vice president of the University Club.

Johnnie White is another Senior whose place will be hard to fill. Johnnie is a four-year man in basketball and has received recognition in baseball as well. Readers of the Vidette are familiar with Johnnie's sports write-ups and his column "Cardinal Chatter." White is business manager and sports editor of the Vidette, and has a place on the Index staff.

Clifford Scott has a long line of speech and dramatic achievements to his credit. His latest triumph was winning the State Oratorical Contest. "Scottie" writes an excellent column for the Vidette, his own "International News and Views." He has been one of the cheer leaders for several years.

Four of the Normal harriers and track men are Seniors. William Bremer and Robert Foster, social chairman and vice president respectively of the Senior Class, are probably best known, but John Armitage and Kenneth "Cappy" Middleton will also be missed on the cinder track.

Football loses two consistently good players in Captain Harold Dennis and Fred Boll, both of whom did much toward "putting the ape on the Wesleyans" last fall. Boll was awarded the Carter Harris Cup for his high-class performance during the fall of 1934. Dennis, besides his superior work in the backfield, has an exceptionally good scholastic record.

Dorothy Sternberg, Ralph Donaldson, Edwin Rakow, and Edna Lohman probably carry off the Senior honors in dramatics. "Dottie," "Ed" and Ralph have played leading roles in several major productions while Edna Lohman, "the girl with the southern accent" has designed most of the costumes.

Both Alice Grush and Clara Rasmussen have enviable records in debate and oratory. Clara has also done some work in dramatics. Donald Deyo, president of the Men's Glee Club, and Ivan Rehn, have also established such records for themselves.

Russell DeBow and Clarence Reeves sing in the Southern Melodies quartet and are interested in debate.

Glenn Taylor, of Kewanee, was president of the Student Council last year and has had a hand in almost everything of importance on the campus. He won the oratorical contest for Wrightonia this year.

Homer Bandy, a transfer from Notre Dame, wields a decidedly mean tennis racquet and is captain of the tennis team.

Graduation also takes its toll in baseball. Besides the loss of John White in the infield the Redbirds must do without the services of Johnnie Murdock behind the bat, Russell "Duke" Ahearn on the mound, Joe "Red" Alfeldt at third sack, and Leo Gelsomino in the outfield.

The women's physical education department is probably best represented in the Senior line-up by Jean Wilder, Dorothy Harman and K. Edna Johnson. "K" has been women's sports writer for the Vidette during the past year and Jean is a member of the Student Council.

Julia Blum and Mary Ellen Reece both have enviable scholastic records and have taken an active part in Women's League work. Julia also served on several Senior committees.

Lloyd Cunningham plays in both the band and orchestra and is president of the band. "Willie" also belongs to a number of Greek letter organizations and holds offices in several.

Alfred Robinson is one of the best known of the Industrial Arts students, and is president of the Industrial Arts club.

Clarence Jackson, of Kewanee, is one of the big moguls in the Blackfriar organization. He and Richard Noble are the co-authors of the original play produced so successfully in 1934 by the Blackfriars. "Clancy" also fills a place on the Index staff and has worked on the Vidette.

Kendrick Martin, of Chicago, has had a prominent part in the Gamma Phi circus for the past several years. He is also one of the Normal cheer leaders and a wrestler of no little repute.

Junior Class

September of 1934 found many young people on the campus ready for a year of study and fun as Juniors, with Dr. Ralph W. Gooding as sponsor.

This year has been an eventful one for our class as we are well represented in the various activities of the school. Particular mention should be made of Alice McGuire, of Normal, President of the Women's League; Ellis Blair, of Normal, Editor of the 1935 Index; John W. Roberts, of Normal, Editor of the Vidette; Charles Lane, of Decatur, President of the Student Council; Dale Miller, of Bloomington, who furnished music for many of our dances.

With the opening of school in the fall comes the thought of football and we are happy to claim Don Smith of East Moline, and Andy Jabsen of Bloomington; Leslie Murray of Normal, a valuable member of the '34 team who was elected captain for the '35 season.

Three Juniors tumble with the Gamma Phi men this year, Cliff Cozart of Bloomington; Wendell Slonaker of Normal; and Leslie Murray, who is president of the organization.

Virginia Abbott of Lincoln, Roy Thompson of Clinton, and Richard Noble of Gibson City, have been prominent in debating and dramatics.

Representing the Juniors on the Student Council are Alice McGuire, John Sheahan, Ellis Blair, and John Roberts.

The social committee, composed of John Sheahan, as chairman, Charles Davies of Decatur, Helen Musa Kent of Lincoln, and Susie Langston of Normal, has been untiring in its efforts to make the dances as enjoyable to all. Following the victory over Wesleyan by our football team, the Juniors sponsored a New Deal Dance, honoring Coach Hancock's men, at which the decorations were in keeping with the new deal.

Following the basketball victory over Wesleyan, we Juniors sponsored a dance at which the popular Red Deem's orchestra, of Peoria, furnished the music.

The Junior-Senior Prom, as usual, a lovely affair, was held June the eleventh.

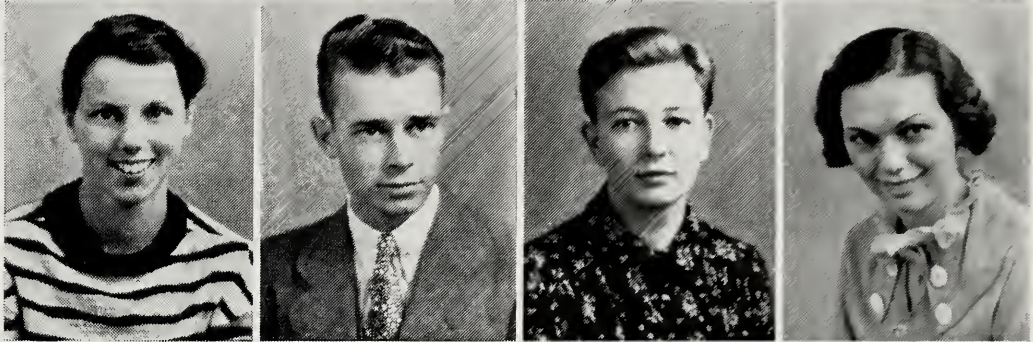

We have tried to represent our school to the best of our ability, and hope that next year, we, as seniors, shall make the school prouder than ever of us.

Sophomore Class

In September, 1933, a group of students left their homes and journeyed toward Normal. After spending one hectic week in unpacking, registering, finding classrooms and discovering new friends, we met in the auditorium to select the leaders of the class for the year. Donald Imhoff was elected president; Jane Larrick, vice-president; Sherman Cahall, secretary; and Joe McReynolds, treasurer. The class had several dances and a picnic during the year. When this group went home in June, we felt we had enjoyed a very successful year.

In the fall of 1934 the class of '37 held their election. We chose for our president, John Dohm; vice-president, Eleanor Moninger; secretary-treasurer, Eunice Robbins. Mr. Fogler was our sponsor.

Two dances were given by the class—one during the winter term and one during the spring term. Our mid-winter dance was one of the most successful dances of the year. Over three hundred fifty people danced to the rhythm of Red Deames' orchestra. The dance committee was composed of John Dohm, Howard Taylor, Paul Hudelson, Mary Barger, and Lois Elliott.

The ring and pin committee selected the ring and pin for the two-year students. Eunice Robbins, Mary Stowe, and Betty Bushmeyer made up this committee.

The class furnishes much material for extra-curricular activities. Our athletes are Glen Jacquat, Don Adams, John Dohm, Horace Hanes, Morris Carr, Winslow Van Ness, Jacquat, Don Adams, John Dohm, Horace Hanes, Morris Carr, Winslow Ban Ness, Curtis Smith, Joe Jacobson, Gene Rodeghiero, Phillip White, Rollie Lyons, Clem McDaniels, Richard Welty, Wilbur Evans, Leonard Peterson, Robert Kile, and Wilbur Veach.

Prominent in dramatics and other organizations are Emily Ann Coffman, president of Fell Hall; Mary Barger, president of the Honor Council; Paul Hudelson, Bernadine Benson, Jane Larrick, Ralph Livingston, Donald Imhoff, Eleanor Allen, Marcella DeWitt, and Ruth Lillis Pearson. In addition to these many of our class are active in glee clubs, orchestra, and band.

We are eagerly looking forward to our last two years of college. We feel sure that if the last half of our four years is as successful as the first half, the class of '37 will leave some well marked footprints on the sands of time.

Freshman Class

The Class of '38 was, we presume, not unlike every other class of Freshmen which has enrolled in Illinois State Normal University. We got off at the various stations as green as the proverbial grass, we staggered through Orientation in a daze, we took the baffling intelligence tests, we enrolled, paid our fees, bought our books, and commenced meeting classes. To make sure we got off on the right track the faculty gave a reception for us September 12. At the first meeting of the class we elected John Hodge for our president.

There is always some vissicitude from year to year among the Frosh, and ours was marked, although opinions as to what the difference was vary. The Seniors say we were the most meliorable of any class of Freshmen they came in contact with while they were at the university. The Juniors say we were the most stubborn and recalcitrant. The Sophomores passed no judgment upon us; they simply took a toe hold and an accurate and healthy swing with a paddle. But for ourselves we can say that we believe that our athletic and scholastic records will compare favorably with those of any other yearling class, and that we have a larger percentage of potential politicians and embryo social lions than has any previous first-year group.

We sponsored an all-school dance January 11, and held a closed sport dance April 5. "Dick" Stiegal held down the catching position on the baseball team. Irene Hagan, "Bob" Turner, Don Holley, and Ashley Thomas gave outstanding performances in dramatics. Bert Herbster was number two man on the varsity golf team. Geraldine Dooley, Bert Herbster, and Margaret Admire represented the class on the student council. Hagan, Turner, and Holley were also very active in forensic activities, and "Bob" held the position of faculty editor on the Index staff.

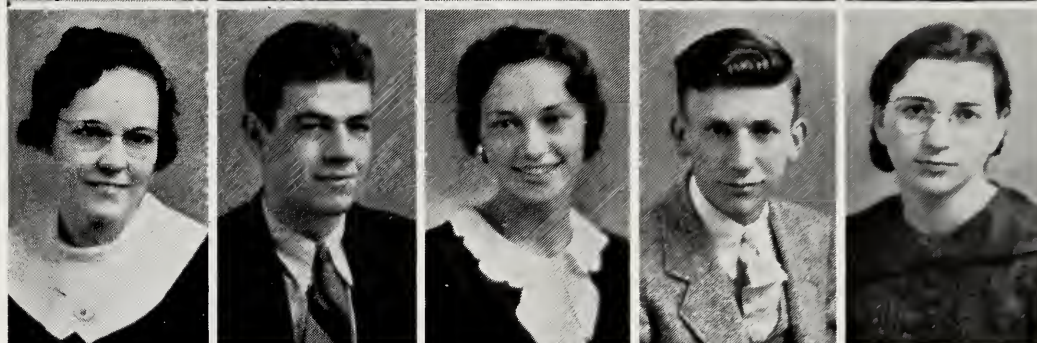

If other Freshmen classes will closely follow in the courses we have so gloriously outlined, the student body of the university should show a complete evolution in the course of a few years. We feel we are a different type from the upperclassmen who lord over us now. There are no hard feelings, of course, but we can discern their faults, and believe that we are intelligent enough to profit by their mistakes. And we guarantee not to make as many ourselves as did the classes of '35, '36, and '37.

Student Council

The Student Council is an organization made up of representatives from the classes and the editors of the two student publications. It is presided over by a student president, elected in the annual spring election. Charles Lane presided over the council meetings during the fall and winter quarters, and John Sheahan presided during the spring quarter. It is the purpose of this organization to consider any matters which may involve the interests of the student body.

The matter of compulsory student assemblies was discussed during the early part of the year. The Council also took action in the matter of a class cut-system.

Many of the arrangements for student action during the time of the Wesleyan-Normal football celebration were made by the Student Council acting in conjunction with the administration. Arrangements for the spring election were made by the Council.

The Apportionment Board

This Board, consisting of Mr. Richard G. Browne of the Department of Social Science, Chairman; Donald E. Deyo, '35; H. Clifford Scott, '36; Charles Davis, '36; Glenn Taylor, '35; President R. W. Fairchild; Mrs. Stella Henderson of the Department of Education; Miss Josephine Ross of the Department of Home Economics and Howard W. Adams, Secretary, has for its function the distribution of the Student Activity Fees among the various all-school organizations. These beneficiaries include the various class organizations, the Movies, The University Theater, Forensics, General Assemblies, Women's Athletic Association, The Women's League, Musical Organizations, The University Band, The Index Staff, The Lecture Board, The Men's Glee Club, The Vidette, The University Club, The Student Council, Various Social Activities and The General Expense and Reserve Funds of the Apportionment Board.

Not only does this Board apportion the $3.00 per term activity fees of the Fall, Winter and Spring Terms, but also the fees of the Summer Term. During the year ending June 30, last, these fees totalled more than $15,800. It now appears that the amount for the current year will even exceed this amount.

The accountant of the fees is Miss Jennie A. Johnson who both receives and disburses the moneys and who renders the annual accounts which are presented to the Normal School Board. Payments from the fund are made by her by check upon the basis of vouchers issued by the organization and certified to by the faculty sponsor of the organization.

Forensic Board

The Forensic Board directs the extra curricular activities in debating, extempore speaking, oratory and platform reading. The Forensic Board also cooperates with the Theatre Board in carrying out their work. The International Debate, which has become an annual affair, is a project of the Forensic Board. The largest project carried out by the board this year was the Third Annual Invitational Debate Tournament held at Normal, January 25 and 26, in which teams from eleven colleges participated. Six men were sent to the Invitational Debate Tournament held at Manchester, Indiana, February 22 and 23. Then on March 1 and 2, twelve men were sent to the Iowa City Tournament, sponsored by the University of Iowa. The Normal first and second negative teams won three of their four debates, thus tying for third place with Wheaton and Carroll Colleges. Perhaps the greatest distinction won by Normal debaters this year was the winning of first place and the gold trophy at the Pi Kappa Delta convention held at Waukesha, Wisconsin, April 1 and 2.

The Normal affirmative team, composed of George Scott and Ivan Rehn, won all of their debates, while the negative team, Donald Deyo and Marcus Bleutto, lost one. The winning of the Pi Kappa Delta Trophy was a very fitting climax for Mr. Deyo, senior member of the team, who has debated for Normal for three years. During the last year Mr. Deyo participated in twenty-two intercollegiate debates and won eighteen of them, which is a record any debater could well be proud of.

Clifford Scott won first place in the men's division of the Illinois Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, held at Wheaton, February 15. Mr. Scott will represent the state in the national contest, held at Evanston, April 26.

Ivan Rehn, senior, has participated in approximately forty intercollegiate debates, and won a large majority of the decisions.

Athletic Board

The Athletic Board is composed of the following members: Miss Barto, Mr. Beyer, Maurine Blum, William Bremer, Mr. Browne, Mr. Fogler, Mr. Gooding, Mr. Hancock, Mr. Harper, Mr. Horton, Mr. Hudelson, (Chairman), Miss Hume, Glenn Jacquat, and Mr. Lancaster.

The chief functions of the board are to approve schedules and vote upon the awards submitted by the coaches. The football and crosscountry teams were given a banquet last December in Fell Hall at which Mr. Clarke Shaughnessey, Football Coach of Chicago University, was the principal speaker. During the spring term the other Varsity teams are feted with a dinner dance at Maplewood Country Club.

Lecture Board

The committee on lectures, entertainments, and concerts has completed another successful year. This committee had additional responsibilities during the current year, in that it cooperated with the assembly and movie committees. In the fall Ruth Bryan Owen, noted lecturer, was brought to the campus on November 2. Lew Sarett, the woodsman-poet, appeared here on January 10. Because the St. Louis Symphony orchestra was so greatly enjoyed by the student body last year it was again secured for the lecture program during the winter term. Another outstanding feature was the Old Globe Theatre Players who presented four Shakespearian plays using the Elizabethian costumes and stage. During the spring term the board was privileged to secure Richard Bonelli, famed baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company. The assembly committee planned many interesting programs for the Tuesday morning assemblies, including short talks on current events by some of the faculty members of the social science department, and programs by the various student organizations. The movie committee, under the leadership of Professor Cross, brought the student body entertainment through up-to-date and educational pictures. The joint-committees feel that they have provided worth while entertainment for their many audiences.

University Theatre Board

The University Theatre Board was organized in 1928 by Miss Verna Grubbs, director of the University Theatre at the time, with the purpose to act as an advisory council in determining the carrying out the policies of the University Theatre. Each member supervises a particular branch of the theatre department, aiding those who are in charge of each individual play, and standing responsible for his department.

The board is self-perpetuating, each member suggesting to the director and to the board the names of the person or persons who have proved themselves most efficient and dependable in his field of work. The appointments are made by the director with the approval of the board. Members of the Theatre Board who have served in their capacity for one year are awarded guards with the initials "U. T.", to be worn with their Jester or Theta Alpha Phi pins.

The members of the University Theatre Board this year are: Business Manager, Clifford Scott; Stage Manager, Donald Deyo; Publicity Director, Clarence Jackson; Property Chairman, Virginia Abbott; Scenic Artist, Katherine Morgan; Costume Mistress, Edna Lohman; Make-up Chairman, Dorothy Sternberg; Electrician and President of Theta Alpha Phi, Glenn Taylor; President of Jesters, Edwin Rakow; and Director of the University Theatre, Miss Mabel Clare Allen.

Women's League

All women in school automatically become members of Women's League, and are encouraged to participate in the activities of the League. Women's League was organized at Illinois State Normal in 1925.

There are two executive bodies, the executive board and central board. The executive board consists of the officers who are elected at the student election each spring, the chairmen of committees, the president of Fell Hall, and the Dean of Women. The members of the Executive Board for the past year were: President, Alice McGuire; Vice President, Julia Blum; Secretary, Dorothy Nightingale; Treasurer, Mary Ellen Reece; Citizenship Chairman, Marjorie Mayne; Fellowship Chairman, Mary Barger; Forum Chairman, Mary Ray Williams; Publicity Chairman, Susie Langston; Records Chairman, Ruth Zollars, Helen Kent; Social Chairman, Mary Huxtable; Census Chairman, Dorothy Sternberg; and President of Fell Hall, Emily Ann Coffman. Dean O. Lillian Barton was the sponsor of the group.

The Central Board consists of the Executive Board and presidents of districts, who are elected at a women's mass meeting in the fall. The district president for the past year were: Gladys Bickerdike, Eleanor Moninger, Martha Hoobler, Edwina Berry, Pauline Colinhower, Aleen Hostetler, Mildred Green, Doris Smith, Beatrice Fisher, Helen Sumner, Mary Frances Cunningham, Dorothy Monroe, Bernice Ramsey, Eloise Bordner, Crystal Farley, Mary Jackson, Alline Burgess, Harriet Beyer, Lucille Williams, Helen Basting, and Dorothy Gerson.

Honor Council consists of ten Junior or Senior girls who are chosen for their scholarship, leadership, and personality. The Fellowship Chairman, Mary Barger, and president of Women's League, Alice McGuire, are honorary members. Each member acts as an advisor to ten Campus Sisters who in turn have each four Freshman Sisters to help become adjusted and introduced into campus life. Honor Council was organized in 1933 and was an outgrowth of the Big and Little Sister movement which was started in 1927. The members of Honor Council were: Maurine Blum, Lois Body, Mary Margaret Gillespie, Aleen Hostetler, Mary Ellen Reece, Pauline Smith, Delight Swanson, Eva Van Winkle, Mary Ray Williams, and Rita Williams.

The College League of Women Voters of Illinois State Normal University was organized on this campus as the Citizenship Committee of the Executive Board of Women's League. It is also affiliated with the State and National League of Women Voters. The League is a non-partisan organization which aims to promote the responsible participation of women in local, national, and international affairs of the day. It seeks efficient government and a better adaptation of the law to present-day conditions. It is the only college organization which consistently presents current political problems in simplified form and untechnical language. This citizenship organization of the Women's League is evidence that the women of I. S. N. U. are thinking, interested citizens. Every woman in school interested in citizenship, regardless of whether she be of voting age, is eligible for membership.

University Club

One of the largest undertakings ever attempted by an organization on the campus of Illinois State Normal University was accomplished this year by the University Club. That was the making possible of Smith Hall. The object of this undertaking was to establish what might be called a social headquarters for the men of ISNU. This attempt has resulted in a great success.

During the fall of 1934 the name of the Varsity Club was changed to University Club. The activities of the club were begun early in the fall with the usual Stag Party, at which President Fairchild, Dean Schroeder, and Coach Hancock spoke.

At Christmas time the organization contributed its customary Christmas religious service to the school and community. At this service the Women's Glee Club and Men's Glee Club sang. Rev. Davies of Fairbury delivered the sermon.

In keeping with the social ideals of the club several all-school parties were sponsored by the club throughout the year.

Pi Gamma Mu

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is the inculcation of the ideals of scholarship, scientific attitude and method, and social service in the study of all social problems. Illinois Theta Chapter, founded on May 22, 1930, together with its co-organization, the Social Science Club, also endeavors to secure greater cooperation among the students and faculty of the several branches of social science represented on the campus.

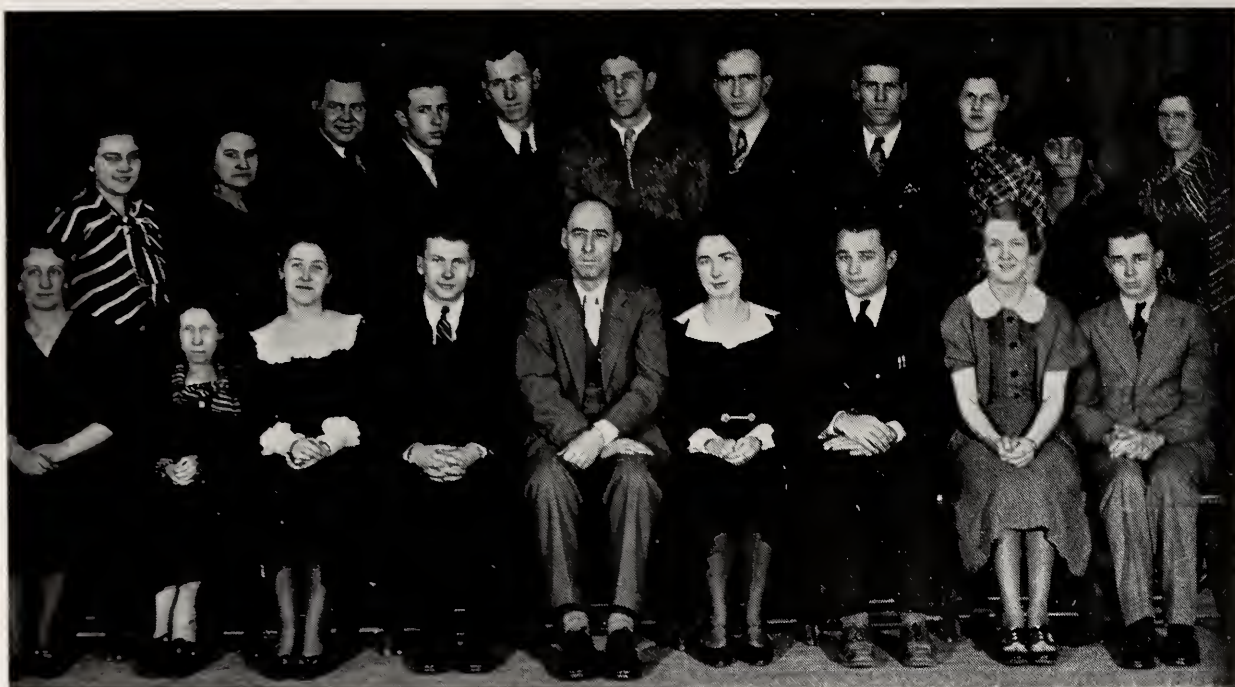

The local Pi Gamma Mu chapter has twenty-five members on the campus, and with the Social Science Club composed of twelve students, functions as one organization having the same officers. Students are eligible to join the Social Science Club when they have an average of eighty-five in six social science subjects; juniors and seniors with an average of at least eighty-five in eight social science subjects may join Pi Gamma Mu.

This year interest in current problems of social, political, and economic nature was encouraged by a series of panel discussions, which were led by Mr. J. A. Kinneman, Mr. Richard Browne, and a group of students. Alumni members were welcomed at a Homecoming Banquet at which Mr. W. A. Beyer was the principal speaker. At another banquet given for members of the social science department, Mr. Charles Harper spoke on the history of Illinois State Normal University. Several social gatherings were also held in addition to the usual initiation services.

Gamma Theta Upsilon

Alpha Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, national geography fraternity, was organized at Illinois State Normal University May 15, 1928, largely through the efforts of Dr. Robert G. Buzzard, then head of the geography department of Illinois State Normal University and now President of Eastern Illinois State Teachers College at Charleston. Since that time twelve other chapters have been organized at various colleges in the United States.

At a meeting held September 24, 1934, Orville Sayers was elected president of the Normal organization. Floyd Leenerman was elected vice-president, Helen Graff, secretary, and Leland Clover, treasurer. Dr. H. O. Lathrop, head of the geography department, was chosen faculty sponsor of the organization.

The programs presented during the year were varied and interesting. Fred D. Barber of the chemistry department, described his experiences in climbing the mountains of Colorado. Dean H. H. Schroeder told of a trip made to the Caribbean region last year. Miss Edna Gueffroy, of the geography department, talked of her sojourn in Alaska, and displayed many interesting and beautiful souvenirs of the trip. Harry Adams, of the Bloomington High School faculty, and Dr. Douglas Clay Ridgley, formerly head of the geography department of Illinois State Normal University, were speakers during the spring term. At another program, various geographic publications were discussed.

The highlight of the year's activities undoubtedly, was the Homecoming banquet served at the First Presbyterian Church in Normal. Eighty-six Gamma Theta Upsilon members returned to hear the speakers of the evening, President R. W. Fairchild and Dr. Douglas C. Ridgley.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi is a national Honor Society in Education, established at the University of Illinois in 1911. There are now ninety-four chapters in the United States. Dr. W. C. Bagley of Columbia University is founder.

Mu chapter was installed at Illinois State Normal University in 1922, with some of our present instructors as charter members. Members are chosen for high general scholarship and pleasing personal qualities.

The homecoming banquet was held on Saturday, November 27, with President R. W. Fairchild acting as toastmaster. Preceding the banquet the formal initiation service was held for one initiate, Reva Janette Ebert.

On February 11, the following people became members: Julia Blum, Miriam Brown, Harry McClintock, John Higgins, Eleanor Gainer, Alice McGuire, Clarence Kuster, Yvonne Purcell, Marjorie Mayne, and William Samp.

The last event of the year is the annual spring banquet at which all the year's initiates are guests.

Kappa Mu Epsilon, national honorary mathematics fraternity, was installed in Illinois State Normal University through the efforts of Prof. C. N. Mills, on January 26, 1933. The Illinois Alpha chapter was formerly the Euclidean Circle, organized the winter term of 1927-28.

The program meetings consisted of presentations of various topics of mathematical interest. One of the most interesting was presented by Dr. Mildred Hunt of Illinois Wesleyan University in which she spoke of sidereal time and its relations to our intricate time system. During the year several open meetings were held for all interested in mathematics. Several social gatherings were also held in the Student Lounge.

The outstanding event of the year was the initiation of pledges into active membership, held at Fell Hall on March 30, 1935. The banquet in the evening was enriched by an address by Dr. Robert Carmichael, former head of the Mathematics Department of University of Illinois.

Kappa Phi Kappa

Kappa Phi Kappa is a national educational fraternity. It is both honorary and professional, having as its members, students and faculty members who are active in the field of education. Alpha Tau chapter was instituted at Illinois State Normal University on May 2, 1931, and has enjoyed four successful years.

The fundamental purpose of Kappa Phi Kappa is "to promote the cause of education by encouraging men of sound moral character and recognized ability to engage in the study of its principles and problems."

The local chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa promotes and participates in various activities as well as educational projects. Its members are to be found in every campus activity and in every branch of study of Normal University.

Because Illinois State Manual University is a teachers' college, Kappa Phi Kappa, an educational fraternity, does play and will continue to play an important part in its development.

The officers of Alpha Tau chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa for the school year 1934-1935 are:

President .....	Henry A. Riemann
Vice-President .....	Charles F. Hall
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Russell R. Ross
Sponsor .....	Professor Charles E. Decker

Dr. C. F. Malmberg, Dr. H. A. Peterson, and Professor C. E. Decker were the faculty members of Normal University who were instrumental in founding Alpha Tau chapter.

Pi Omega Pi

Pi Omega Pi is a National Honorary Commerce Fraternity. Theta Chapter was organized on this campus on June 3, 1928. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote interest in the Commercial field and to stress three aims in the teaching profession: service, loyalty and progress. Requirements for membership are high scholastic averages in both Commercial and other subjects.

Meetings of both a social and business nature were held once each month. Talks were given by some of our members and our Sponsor containing valuable information in the field of Commerce. At the May meeting of the Commerce Club we presented a one-act play, "The Meeting Is Called to Order." A great deal of time was spent in publishing a news bulletin, including news about the campus as well as our own chapter activities. One section consisted of a research project on the subject of Junior Business Training. A copy of the bulletin was sent to each alumni member.

An outstanding event of the year was the Homecoming Banquet where old acquaintances were renewed and new ones made. The spring banquet will be held during Commencement week.

Officers for the year were:

President .....	Wilbur Cluver
Vice-President .....	Alma Lee Puckett
Secretary .....	Dorothy McHenry
Treasurer .....	Lora Dornblaser and Vernon Heins
Sponsor .....	Miss Webb

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta is a national honorary forensic fraternity which seeks to stimulate progress in, and to promote the interests of intercollegiate oratory, debate, and public speaking by encouraging a spirit of intercollegiate fellowship, of brotherly co-operation and interest, and by conferring upon deserving candidates a badge of distinction, proficiency, and honor, varied and graduated according to merit and achievement.

During the year, members of Illinois Eta Chapter of Illinois State Normal University have striven to pursue the worthy objectives of Pi Kappa Delta, and accordingly have been active in many of the speech activities of the University. Alice Grush and Clifford Scott were the representatives of Normal in intercollegiate oratory. Clara Rasmussen, Donald Deyo, and Ivan Rehn represented Normal in intercollegiate debating. Clara Rasmussen, Donald Deyo, and Clifford Scott were active in various University play casts throughout the year. William Samp, Glenn Taylor, Ivan Rehn, and Clifford Scott "battled" in the annual Phil-Wright Literary contest. The former two, William Samp and Glenn Taylor, represented Wrightonia in extempore speaking and oratory, respectively; Ivan Rehn, debate, and Clifford Scott, oratory, were the Philadelphia representatives in that contest.

Theta Alpha Phi

The highest honor attainable by a student in dramatics at Illinois State Normal University is membership in Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity. Theta Alpha Phi is the oldest organization of its kind in the United States; the chapter here is the Delta Chapter.

Each year Theta Alpha Phi sponsors the production of a play. Anyone in school is eligible to take part in these productions. This year the play was Justin McCarthy's "If I Were King."

Besides its activities in the furthering of dramatics on the campus, Theta Alpha Phi has two established customs which might be classified as "recreational." At homecoming, the Delta Chapter gives a party at Lake Bloomington for former and active members at which the re-established contacts strengthen the bond of fellowship and mutual interest existing among the members.

The most memorable event of the year is the annual spring initiation held at Allendale, the home of Miss Mabel Clare Allen, sponsor of Theta Alpha Phi and director of the University Theatre. The picnic lunch is followed by an impressive ceremony held in a natural amphitheatre in the woods. Following this, the new members are entertained at a chicken dinner.

Because of the high requirements for membership, the number of students active in Theta Alpha Phi is small. Active members this year are Virginia Abbott, Virginia Clark, Clifford Scott, Dorothy Sternberg, Glenn Taylor, Ray Thompson, Rudolph Schwarz, and Miss Janet K. Smith.

Kappa Delta Epsilon

Kappa Delta Epsilon is a national professional education sorority for junior and senior girls. Twenty-two girls were initiated in the formal service at Fell Hall on October 10, 1934. During the Homecoming festivities, Kappa Delta Epsilon decorated a house in Normal, and held a luncheon at Hotel Rogers in collaboration with Kappa Phi Kappa. Many interesting programs were presented in the course of the year's meetings. Miss Strud of the English department, gave an interesting account of her travels in England and Scotland; Miss Imboden discussed teachers' colleges in the south and east visited during her studies at Columbia University; and Dr. Waldron of the Social Science department gave an illustrated lecture on China. Nancy Raisbeck, Maurine Darling, and Maurine Blume were in charge of an interesting student program on the value of a college education. A Founder's Day Banquet was held on Saturday, April 20, to which President Fairchild and members of the department of education were invited. The officers for this year are Miss Julia Blum, President; Miss Lois Body, Vice President; Miss Drusilla Hoyt, Secretary; and Miss Kay Edna Johnson, Treasurer. Miss Mary Webb was sponsor for the first part of the year and Mrs. Stella Henderson for the latter part.

Gamma Phi

The Illinois Alpha Chapter of Gamma Phi was founded at Illinois State Normal University in 1929 as an honorary physical education fraternity. This organization is open to the men of the university who are interested in physical education and gymnastics.

The objectives of the organization are four-fold, namely: to promote an interest in physical education among the students; to honor gymnastic achievement among the men of the student body and the faculty; to stimulate an interest in physical education and gymnastics in schools of other communities; and to provide entertainment for various organizations in this and other localities.

The members of Gamma Phi have done remarkably well in accomplishing these objectives. The interest in physical education among the students of the campus is constantly increasing. Ten additions were honored in membership to the organization on February 4, 1935. A score or more appearances have been made in various schools and organizations of the state to promote gymnastic interests and to provide entertainment.

The Gamma Phi Gym Circus, which was the greatest accomplishment of the year, was staged and directed by a committee of the members of the organization. Two performances, consisting of all school talent, were given on March 21 and 22, 1935.

Gamma Phi was very fortunate in having Mr. C. E. Horton as sponsor of the organization. Much of the success of the organization is due to Mr. Horton's capable and helpful direction.

Philadelphia Literary Society

The aim of Philadelphia Literary Society is to develop the individual socially, intellectually and spiritually; and to give him an opportunity for the expression of his talents in the various lines of speech and in music.

The regular meetings this year have been marked by some very interesting programs. On October 7 an open meeting was held for all active and nominal Phils. An interesting program was given and refreshments were served. December 18, the Phils enjoyed a party with Wrightonia, held in Fell Hall and sponsored by Wrightonia.

The Phil-Wright contest ended in a sweeping victory for Wrightonia, but in spite of this, Philadelphia is still "Going On" as expressed in its motto. Those who represented Philadelphia in the contest were Ivan Rehn and Ellis Blair, debate; Clifford Scott, oratory; Paul Poe, extemporaneous speech; Frances Bloomstrand, reading; Hazelle Berkness, piano, and Julia Bischoff, voice. These people gave the Wrights some good competition, most of the decisions being two to one.

Philadelphia is well represented in other forms of literary work. James Holley, Ivan Rehn, Alice Grush and Clifford Scott are among those prominent in literary work on the campus.

Much credit for the good work and enthusiasm of the society is due to its new sponsor, Mr. Lancaster, who took up the duties of the former sponsor, Mr. Lathrop, early in the winter term. Mr. Lancaster is a good leader and a helper to all in the society.

Wrightonia

The society started the year by revising the constitution, and by the united efforts of the old members "boosting Wrightonia." An open meeting was held in the fall to which a large number of nominal Wrights came. The rest of the fall term was devoted to try-outs. When these were completed, the pledges were formally initiated at a party held in the Student Lounge. The new members brought the membership to its full quota of forty members. During the year the society has presented programs over the local radio station, WJBC. Preceding the Christmas holidays the society entertained Philadelphia at a Christmas party at Fell Hall.

Contestants selected for the contest were Donald Holley and Robert Turner in debate; Glen Taylor, oration; William Samp, extempore speaking; Irene Hagan, reading, and Mary Ray Williams, piano. Preceding the contest, the society held an open meeting for nominals, at which badges were given them to wear during the time before the contest.

With good spirit from the members and helpful suggestions from Mr. Harper, sponsor of the society, Wrightonia has truly had a successful year.

Officers during the year were in the fall term; president, Mary Louise Barger; vice-president, Helen Leone Satterwhite; secretary, Roy Schilling; treasurer, Emily Ann Coffman, and reporter, Dorothy Gerson. For winter term: President, Evelyn Bloomquist; vice-president, Ruth Swanson; secretary, Roma Thomas; treasurer, Emily Ann Coffman, and reporter, Madeline Kerchenfaut.

Fell Hall

Fell Hall, enriched by new decorations and furniture, has enjoyed another successful year. The only residence hall for women on the campus, built in 1917, it accommodates eighty-seven women, nineteen of whom are honor residents chosen for scholarship, high personal ideals and leadership. Other residents are freshmen and transfer students.

Residents of the Hall entertain their guests there, and other organizations on the campus use the Hall for social affairs.

Two informal dances and one formal were given by the girls of Fell Hall this year, also a Christmas "At Home" party was included on the social calendar.

Miss Thelma Nelson of the English department, director of Fell Hall, is assisted by Emily Ann Coffman, President; Genevieve Novak, Secretary; and Zelda Becker, Treasurer.

Ruth Hellyer was Social Chairman this year, with the committee members Starkey Hunt, Carolyn Heinemann, Mary Huxtable and Genevieve Novak.

Honor Residents were: Misses Balthrope, Becker, Coffman, Cooper, Galetta, Gerson, Heinemann, Hellyer, Hunt, Huxtable, Jabsen, Keough, Lamb, McCulloch, Novak, Peel, Reeser, Siemons, and Tate.

Art Club

This year, Art Club was reorganized under a new constitution to more adequately fill the present needs of the organization. Membership is open to all students interested in art and enjoying the social and artistic ideals and aims of this student activity.

New members are inducted into the club with both an informal and formal initiation. The formal initiation was held this year at the home of Miss Catherine Morgan. During the year, parties have been given at the student lounge and at the home of Miss Tilton, sponsor of the organization.

The float in the Homecoming Parade presented the Public Works of Art Project with a large mural painted by the students, and other sketching at easels. The homecoming luncheon brought back a number of alumni. In the Varsity Stunt Show, the art students showed a group of living cartoons.

The high point of the season's activities is the Annual Costume Ball. This year, the special features were a classic dance by members of the Orchesis, and a minuet, with couples costumed in the period of Louis XV. A formal garden gave the effect of the dancers issuing from a terrace. Special guests included people active in art interests in Bloomington and Illinois Wesleyan.

The Commerce Club

This year marks the twenty-first birthday of the Commerce Club. As a result of able guidance and instructive activity, its membership during these years has jumped from seven to over one hundred and fifty.

Anyone enrolled in the commerce curriculum or who has completed three terms of work in commerce is eligible to membership in the club.

Our first meeting was open to all enrolled in the commercial field and was to acquaint them with the aims of the organization. Over seventy students became members at an informal initiation on Octobtr 4. During Homecoming, a get-together was held in the Old Castle, and our entry in the hobo parade won five dollars. The Yule Season was marked by a progressive-game party given in the women's gymnasium.

The program committee, with Helen Musa Kent acting as chairman, has presented varied and interesting numbers. These included musical selections by a saxophone quartette, a shadow play, and a talk by Mr. John W. Carrington on the educational, social, and personal qualifications necessary to become a successful commercial teacher. The instructors of the department are to give a program in the spring. Our annual picnic, which is always a source of wholesome fun and food, is to be held in May.

Thanks to the cooperation of the officers, the sponsor, the committees, and the members, a most successful year has been enjoyed.

Home Economic Club

The Home Economic Club was organized in the spring of the year 1924 with forty-eight charter members. The first officers were Pauline Olinger, President; Cornelia Smith, Vice-President; Lois Smith, Secretary and Treasurer. Miss Jessie Ramto, head of the Home Economics Department was chosen first sponsor and has held that position during the subsequent years. The officers for this year were: Louise Koehler, President; Ferne Nicol, Vice President; and Frances M. Smith, Secretary and Treasurer.

The purpose of the organization is to afford an opportunity for a closer friendship among the girls in the department through social activities, and to bring about a cooperative relationship between the Home Economics department and other organizations on the campus. Any student specializing in Home Economics is eligible by paying dues and attending meetings.

The parties have furnished a varied social program and at Christmas time baskets were packed and sent to local poor families. Other entertaining events included: a talk by Miss Harriet Berningers, telling of her trip to Alaska; Report of the Home Economics convention held at Springfield this year, which many of our members attended; programs given by the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes of the Home Economics department; and the Home-Coming Banquet, with Miss Hess, State Supervisor of Home Economic Education as guest of honor, probably the highlight event of the year.

The club owes much of its success to Miss Ramto and its president, Louise Koehler.

Hopkins Agriculture Club

The Hopkins Agriculture Club is an organization of agricultural students banded together for the purpose of advancing agricultural interests, promoting campus activities, and developing good leadership and fellowship among its members. It has just passed its thirteenth and most outstanding season on the campus, taking in thirty new members at the beginning of the fall term.

Some of the highlights of the year's activities were: the sponsorship of an all-school dance, the supervision of the Hobo parade for Homecoming, a weiner roast at Forest Park, the fall and spring Smith-Hughes High School Vocational Judging Contests, the Holbert Medal Judging Contest and Banquet, the Annual Barn Dance, and the Senior Agricultural Banquet.

This year the club also instituted and arranged an Annual Community Night of entertainment to which all the farmers in the surrounding territory were invited. The club hopes that this will prove to be a worth-while community affair.

A great deal of the success of the club this year is attributed to its founder, Professor Clyde W. Hudelson, and its sponsor, Professor T. J. Douglass.

Social meetings, held in the homes of the members and in the Student Lounge, have been featured this year.

"Roman Ruins in England" was the subject of a talk given by Miss Stroud of the faculty, on September 25, at the home of the sponsor, Miss Carver.

Miss Mary Ellen Reece and Miss Emily Norton entertained the club members at their homes. The programs were given by students.

At the Christmas meeting, held in the lantern room of the library, slides representing Roman communication and travel were shown.

A Roman Banquet was the outstanding event for the spring term.

Lowell Mason Club

Since the year 1922, the Lowell Mason Club has been active on the campus of Illinois State Normal University. The organization chose its name in honor of Lowell Mason, the "Father of Public School Music." The purposes of founding were to further interest in public school music on the campus, to maintain relations between old and active members, and to enjoy the benefits derived from membership in the club and participation in musical activities. Those qualifying for membership are students of the music curriculum, the director of the music division, and his assistants, and honorary members whom the club has chosen to elect. Meetings are held at 7:30 every other Wednesday evening.

This year the club presented an interesting program over the University station, WJBC.

Nature Study Club

The Nature Study Club under the excellent guidance of Mr. Donald Hughes, President; Miss Veronica Brodie, Vice President; Mr. Clint Kelly, Treasurer; and Miss Alberta Hinthorne, Secretary, have experienced a most successful year. Miss Neva Mcdavitt of the geography department is faculty sponsor of the club.

The club is, at present, composed of over seventy-five members. The main interest of the club is to bring before its members noted speakers in the field of science in order to create an interest in preserving, improving, and enjoying the natural beauty which our country affords us. Each year, in the spring, the club sponsors a trip to some state park or other spot noted for its natural beauty. This trip is open to all club members at a very small cost.

The club began its activities in the fall with the informal and formal initiations and later a roller skating party in Bloomington. The club has also enjoyed several other social gatherings such as cards, dancing, and refreshments in the lounge.

The club has had for guest speakers this year Miss Gueffroy of the geography department on "Life in Alaska"; Mr. Spencer Ewing of Bloomington on "Island of Balke"; and Mr. Read Kennen of Wesleyan on "How to Take a Picture." These lectures were very interesting and practical to anyone interested in this field. The club meets regularly three times per term, the third, seventh, and eleventh weeks on Tuesday night from 6:30 to 7:30.

The purpose of the organization is to discuss the problems relating to elementary education, and to promote the social relationships of its members.

The Kindergarten Club has had a number of social functions this year, beginning with a tea given in September in the Student Lounge.

For the sixth consecutive year, the Kindergarten Club placed in the Hobo Parade, winning fourth place with the presentation of "A Hobo Puppet Show."

The Homecoming dinner was held at Roland's Colonial room.

The annual Kindergarten Club spring dance was held at Fell Hall, March ninth.

The Kindergarten Club closed its activities for this year with a picnic in May and the annual dinner in June, for those who received diplomas and certificates.

The Science Club

The Science Club of the Illinois State Normal University is an honorary organization for faculty and student members of the several fields of science represented on the campus. Student membership is based on grades and the vote of the faculty members of the organization.

Programs during the year have included: a travelogue by Miss Gueffroy on Alaska, a talk by Mr. F. W. Aldrich on "Stone Age Man in Europe," a student program in which modern aspects of science were discussed, an address by Dr. Mortimer of Wesleyan University, "Unfolding Universe" on Astronomy, and a joint meeting with the Nature Study Club at which Mr. Spencer Ewing spoke on the Islands of Bali and showed motion pictures in colors which he had taken on trips there. Other programs for the year will include such topics as "The Science of Plant Breeding," "Tuberculosis," and "Crime Detection." The final meeting of the year is to be a picnic.

During the first term, the constitution was revised so as to be in accord with the semester plan when it becomes effective. The revised constitution has been printed and made available for all the members of the group.

Officers for the year 1934-35 were:

President . . . . .	Dr. H. O. Lathrop
Vice President . . . . .	Lloyd Cunningham

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts club is an organization of the Industrial Education department of Illinois State Normal University. Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:15 p. m. in room 45 of the Manual Arts building. At present the club has an active membership of forty students. Under the able leadership of Professor C. M. Hammerlund, the club sponsor, and Henry Sholty, the club president, the club members have enjoyed many interesting meetings. Various educational trips were taken to points of interest in the neighborhood.

The entertainment committee formulated a plan for trips and refreshments for each meeting and each member enjoyed himself to the utmost. Professor Hammerlund acted as the genial host to the club on several occasions at his home.

Homecoming proved to be an interesting and profitable event for the club as their attractive float won second place in the Hobo parade and the club placed fifth in the house decorations.

The programs for the 1935 Homecoming will be published and distributed by the members and should prove to be another of the club's ever increasing money-making ideas.

The members of the Industrial Arts club are looking forward to another profitable and enjoyable year as members of such a lively campus organization.

The Hieronymus Club

The Hieronymus Collegiate Chapter of the American Country Life Association was organized on the I. S. N. U. campus in 1922. It was named in honor of Dr. R. E. Hieronymus, a graduate of "old Normal," who has for many years been State Community Adviser. The Hieronymus Club is an honorary organization, and members must be beyond the freshman year, with high scholastic standing and social interests. The purpose of the club is to study the conditions of rural community life and to develop leadership in community activities. The yearly program is made out at the beginning of the school year. The meetings are held monthly. This year such topics as the following were discussed: A National Plan for Agriculture, Subsistence Homesteads, Tennessee Valley Authority, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Rural Rehabilitation, Federal Emergency Relief, Civilian Conservation Corporation, Rural Youth and Youth Movement.

A delegation attended the Farm and Home week at the University of Illinois one evening and saw the one-act plays given. The Hieronymus Club took part in the annual hobo parade at Homecoming time and won a prize with their "farm family." A Homecoming Breakfast was given for the present members and the alumni of the club. Special programs are given at the initiation and Christmas meetings. The club cooperates with the Agriculture Club in sponsoring the annual corn show. A delegate and the club sponsor usually attend the Convention of the American Country Life Association. Russel Kirkham was the delegate to the National Convention held in Washington, D. C.

Press Club

The Press Club, honorary journalism society, was organized six years ago by students who had had work in journalism or had served on the Vidette staff. Membership in the organization is open to students who meet these requirements.

The primary purpose of Press Club is to stimulate increased interest in newspaper work and to give training for the sponsoring of high school publications.

Press Club was not especially active during the last year, partly because of the granting of a leave of absence to Miss Esther Binson, the faculty sponsor, to continue her studies for her doctorate. The organization, however, did put out a Hobo "Wedette," which was distributed during the hobo parade.

French Club

Le Cercle Francais is an organization open to all students who have completed one year of college French or its equivalent. Its purpose is to promote a further appreciation of the language, and to perfect the speaking ability of those interested.

A placard on the door reading "Entrez, mes amis" admitted members to the first meeting Chez Mme. Ellis. Officers for the year were elected and a program committee for the following meeting was appointed by the president. The rest of the evening was spent in singing French songs, working cross-word puzzles, and playing French games.

The second social gathering was held Chez Mme. Maxine Coates. Chez Mme. Mary Ricks, Mr. Harper gave a lecture on the social, political, and economic relations of France and other European nations. Chez Mme. Nancy Raisbeck, plans were discussed for the production of several Marionette plays. Each year le Cercle Francais produces some short play, usually a farce. These plays are interesting and entertaining to the audience, and instructional to the participants in the play.

Those attending the fifth meeting held in the library enjoyed a delightful program presented by Miss Waldron. Her account of her travels through the French districts of Canada was supplemented by slides of many beautiful and historical scenes.

Good times are enjoyed at all these social meetings and new members are always welcome.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is an organization composed of the Catholic students of Illinois State Normal University. It was organized in 1924 and is named for Cardinal Newman. The purpose of the club is to unite Catholic students into closer social relationships.

Any Catholic student is eligible to join the organization, and may become an active member by paying his dues and attending the meetings. There are three regular meetings held each term in Wrightonian Hall. In addition to the regular programs, purely social affairs are held frequently.

After the business discussion of each regular meeting, an interesting program is given. These consist of short plays, musical selections, readings, current events on topics of particular interest to Catholics, and discussions of doctrines and beliefs of the Catholic religion.

A reception, given September 20 in the Student Lounge, welcomed the old and new Catholic students. The Reverend Father Moore, pastor of Holy Trinity Church, addressed the group. Two weeks later a weiner roast was given at the home of Miss Mary Letford, president. The Annual Homecoming Breakfast was held at the Illinois Hotel, and shortly afterwards Miss Elizabeth Tuthill of Bloomington invited the members to her home. A Christmas party, at which the members exchanged gifts, was given in the Women's gymnasium. A pre-Lenten party, held in the Student Lounge, was followed by a pleasant evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Shields. The social functions were climaxed by the annual spring banquet.

Miss Regina Connell is our able sponsor.

Blackfriars

The Blackfriars is an organization composed of men interested in dramatics and music. Membership is based upon the individual's abilities in dramatics and music. The new members are initiated at both a formal and informal initiation. This organization writes and produces a play each year.

Under the leadership of Clarence Jackson the Blackfriars' activities were begun early this year. The Blackfriars decorated a house on North Street at Homecoming. We were awarded second for our takeoff of Normal's radio station, WJBC.

In the annual production, special musical numbers, written and composed by the Blackfriars, are featured. The productions are to stimulate a greater interest in dramatics.

Jesters

The membership of this organization is chosen from those students actively interested in dramatics and participating in acting or play production on the campus. Eligibility can be achieved with experience in either, but not necessarily both, of the above fields of dramatic work. The Jesters' initiations are noted for originality and appropriateness.

A closed costume-party planned on some specific theme is one of the yearly activities, and various picnics and other social meetings are supplementary phases of their program for the year.

The Jesters sponsor one full-length production each year, which is directed by a member of the organization. In addition, for the past three years, the Jesters have produced, just before the Christmas holidays, a Nativity play. In this, they are attempting to establish a tradition so that various types of such plays and their production may become familiar to the general student-body.

This year the Nativity production was "The Light of the Star," an original work written, designed, and directed, by the Jester sponsor, Miss Janet K. Smith. The music was incorporated as an integral part of the production and contributed greatly to its effect. The words for most of the songs had been written or rearranged especially for the play, using forms of traditional tunes as ancient as are obtainable, as well as some original music. As is customary in the Jesters' Nativity productions, lighting and costuming and the design of the action and groupings were special features of emphasis.

Maize Grange

The Maize Chapter of the National Grange was organized June 4, 1930, for the purpose of 'fitting into the picture' of social and educational advancement on the campus.

Prof. Clyde W. Hudelson was made Master when this organization was formed and held the same position until January 1, 1934. Dr. P. C. Somerville was Master during 1934, and Charles Allen was elected to serve as such for 1935.

Our membership at present is 65, a gain of 28 over last year. The organization meets every first and third Tuesday evening of each month, in the Administration Building.

Throughout the past year the attendance at our meetings has been exceedingly good and the programs and parties have been most interesting. At one meeting our membership was honored in having five state officers, including the State Master, in attendance.

Neighborliness and fellowship constitute much of our stock in trade.

Y. W. C. A.

Illinois State Normal University is the home of the first student Y. W. C. A. in the world. At a meeting at the home of Mrs. McMurray, on November 12, 1872, the idea for such an organization was conceived. Today twenty-three countries have joined the movement.

The purpose of Y. W. C. A. is to help young women adjust themselves mentally, spiritually, and socially to contemporary and future problems of life. Because of this broader conception of its aims, there is a need for planned leadership. The cabinet, composed of the chairmen of each department, cooperates with the members to achieve the purposes. This year's cabinet is Aleen Hostettler, president; Margaret Dooley, vice-president; Dorothy Balthrop, treasurer; Frankie Coates, secretary; Dorothy Gerson, finance; Clara L. Stack, social; music, Mary Ellen Reece; world fellowship, Mary Margaret Gillespie; Rose Dean, music, and Margaret Braden, devotions.

Mary Margaret Gillespie planned a series of programs for the year. The aim of the first was to enable the girls to become better acquainted. There was the annual walk-out breakfast, the Sing, and a travel party. The second group were world fellowship programs. In order to acquaint the club with other countries faculty members gave talks on England, Alaska, and world problems. The third group concerned the history and literature of the Bible. Talks were also given by faculty members. Many other social events were held during the year.

The Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association was organized in the spring of 1919, with twelve charter members. In this short period of sixteen years the active-membership has increased to one hundred and twenty, and the organization has broadened its program so that it now provides an opportunity for every woman and many men to enter into the variety of activities it offers.

The outstanding event of the fall term was the College Sports Day held October 20. Two-hundred women from various colleges and universities in Illinois were present. There was competition, school against school, in hockey, soccer, and volley ball. Archery and recreational games were also played. A women's sports day of this type was sponsored by Normal for the first time last year and W. A. A. has decided to make it an annual affair.

W. A. A.'s intramural program during the winter term consisted of volley ball, tumbling, tapping, swimming, bowling, basket ball, recreational games and social dancing. The men of the school were invited to participate in the tapping and social dancing instruction and the response was very gratifying. Recreational games were stressed more than ever before and were very successful and greatly enjoyed by those who participated. The major project of the year, the re-furnishing of the W. A. A. room, was begun during the winter term.

The spring term brought with it baseball, tennis, archery and golf, to say nothing of the camping trips which brought a delightful close to a year filled with many and varied activities.

Pringle-Hall Club

During the spring of 1934, a group of students in the upper grade curriculum organized a club with these purposes: to further interest in the upper grade child—in his problems, characteristics and needs; to increase the knowledge of the members about the problems in their particular field; to create a spirit of unity and a closer social life among its members. The name, Pringle-Hall, was chosen in recognition of two outstanding writers on the psychology, Ralph W. Pringle, principal of Normal University high school, and G. Stanley Hall, a pioneer in the study of adolescence.

In the fall of 1934, the club took an active part in its first Homecoming celebration. Redbirds and a football centerpiece in the college colors provided an attractive setting for a delightful luncheon to welcome alumni members. The guest of honor, Mr. Pringle, gave interesting personal reminiscences of G. Stanley Hall and a brief discussion of some adolescent problems. Third prize rewarded the labors of the committee that constructed the "jungle shack," the club's entry in the hobo parade.

Other memorable events of the fall and winter were as follows: a social meeting in the Student Lounge for members only; a party in the women's gymnasium, at which a variety of games provided an opportunity for club members and their Freshman guests to become better acquainted; and a program meeting at which Miss Ruth Stroud gave a fascinating account of her summer in England.

Smith Hall

The opening this fall of Smith Hall, a new residence for men students of Illinois State Normal University, realizes a long cherished ambition of students faculty and administration. Not only were housing facilities provided for fortunate occupants of the hall, but it has been one of the social centers of the university.

It has been regretted that the size of the hall limits the number of occupants to thirty-two. This beautiful and commodious gray brick house has large reception and library rooms on the first floor. On the second floor are numerous rooms for study purposes which will be the center of the home life of the residents. The huge dorm is on the third floor.

The grounds, occupying almost the entire square block, are beautiful in design and extent.

The general control of Smith Hall is under the auspices of the University Club, of which Dean Ralph H. Linkins is sponsor. Mrs. Grace Grisswold was chosen House Mother and has been in immediate charge although the house regulations were established and maintained by the residents themselves. Ralph F. Donaldson was appointed by a committee of university executives to be House Chairman. John R. Higgins, Bert Herbster, Joe Citron, and Charles Lane were elected by popular vote of the residents to serve on the house committee.

This hall, sponsored by President R. W. Fairchild and Dean R. H. Linkins, has proven a success since its opening in October, '34. It is hoped that its purpose will be even more realized in the years that follow.

Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club has enjoyed a very active season in 1934-1935. Both the first and second groups have had many engagements, singing at I. S. N. U., in Bloomington and Normal, over station WJBC and at several out-of-town engagements. The first group made its annual tour during spring vacation.

First Women's Chorus

The First Women's Chorus, composed of approximately fifty voices, has completed a most successful year. We may attribute this fact to our Director, Professor F. W. Westhoff, and to the cooperation of each member of the group.

Meetings were held every Monday and Thursday night. The three parts were always well balanced in number, because of transfers from the Second Chorus to fill vacancies if such was necessary. The selections have been of the highest class of music and the supply throughout the year seemed practically inexhaustible. However, a great quantity, as well as variety, was necessary since the group broadcasted over Station WJBC every other Tuesday, alternating with the Second Women's Chorus.

The chorus has made many public appearances, among which were: various church services in Normal and Bloomington, the Bloomington Women's Club, the Christmas Service in Capen Auditorium, and the Central Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association. Black choir robes have added much to the general appearance of the group this year. Each girl made her own robe.

Soloists on broadcasting programs and at other public appearances were: Helen Weicker, Dolores Menssen, Helen Conlee, Helen Musa Kent, Frances Butler, Julia Bischoff, Marguerite Polette. The accompanist has surely contributed her share to the success of the group.

The chorus gives excellent opportunity for vocal training, affords a new outlook on correct interpretation of music, and helps each member to know what points are most necessary for effective group singing.

Band

A bigger and better band! That is the slogan at I. S. N. U. This year, under the direction of Kenyon S. Fletcher, the band has made a brilliant showing:

The following band, composed of 60 members, furnished music for all the home games. Many delightful marching formations were executed. The band travelled to Dekalb for the game with the Northern Teachers. The second annual high school band marching contest was sponsored by the band at Homecoming. The purpose of the contest is to stimulate an interest in music.

Basketball. A small pep band of 24 pieces was selected for the basketball season. The band journeyed to Wesleyan for the annual encounter. The repertoire of the pep band consisted of novelty numbers and marches.

Broadcasting and concert work was done by the I. S. N. U. concert band. This group consisted of 55 members, composed of both men and women. Weekly broadcasts were performed over our own station, WJBC. Every spring the concert band presents its formal spring concert.

OFFICERS OF THE CONCERT BAND

President . . . . . Floyd E. Cunningham
 Business Manager . . . . . Lee D. Stabenow

A second band is maintained for those desiring to learn band work, and it also affords an excellent opportunity to become familiar with a second or third instrument.

The band contemplates presenting the usual outdoor spring concerts as has been the practice of the bands in the past. Near the close of the school year a picnic is sponsored by the band for its members. At that time keys are presented to the men who have performed faithfully throughout the year. The goal of the I. S. N. U. band is to create a greater interest and appreciation in band work.

Men's Physical Education Club

President .....	Ottis Barclay
Vice-President .....	John Armitage
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Paul Armstrong
Sponsor .....	E. L. Hill

The Men's Physical Education Club was organized early in October, 1934, under the sponsorship of Mr. E. L. Hill. Officers for the year were chosen at the second meeting and a petition for faculty recognition was submitted. The petition has not been definitely approved nor rejected. All men physical education majors are automatically eligible to membership, which gave us eighty charter members.

One of the major purposes of the club is to promote the professional interests and attitudes of its members. Talks and discussions of current problems of physical education are in order at each of the semi-monthly meetings. The high-light of these discussions was the address, on March 4, by Mr. Louis Kulcinski, State Supervisor of Physical Education, on state physical education laws and on physical education organizations. The address was followed by an informal discussion led by Mr. Kulcinski.

The promotion of intramural activities is a major function of the club. Some members acted as managers of the various sports while others officiated at the contests. Some of the instructors and managers of the hobby hours were chosen from the club. Our basketball team, under the leadership of Robert McGraw, won the University intramural championship.

Our intramural party held at McCormick gymnasium in November, was attended by about two hundred students and faculty members. A variety of stunts and novelty contests were offered and a prize awarded. We also sponsored the freshman-sophomore tug o' war at home-coming.

“N” Club

The “N” Club is an organization composed of all the lettermen of the university. The purpose of the club is to further the spirit of fellowship among the various schools with which I. S. N. U. comes in contact and also among the lettermen of I. S. N. U.

The outstanding events of the year were the “N” Club banquet, which was held at the Y.W.C.A. during Home-coming, the dance held at the Bloomington Club, the benefit basketball game with the Bloomington Commercials as opponents and the assembly program.

The lettermen are also quite active in other campus fields such as dramatics, forensics, athletic board, musical activities, the Index, and the Vidette.

Dennis, Homan, Adams, White, Foster, Armitage

The Cardinals

The wearers of the Cardinal pin are Juniors and Seniors who have distinguished themselves in the activities of the "N" Club. This group is an honorary one and has no special purpose. However, the wearers have been limited to produce added incentive toward active participation in the lettermen's organization.

DeBow, Noble, Lane, Bennett, McRae, Turner, Holley, Poe, Ross, Sailor
Covington, Deyo, Livingston, Mr. Sorenson, Bluth, Stoltz, Woods

Men's Debate Club

The unusually large and competent group who joined the men's debating squad this year made it possible for them to enjoy an active season. The squad is coached by Dr. Fred S. Sorenson, Director of the Division of Speech Education.

The first debate of the season was held in November when Donald Deyo and Clifford Scott, veteran I. S. N. U. debaters met a team from University of London in the fourth annual international debate staged here. The question was "Resolved: that pacifism is the finest form of patriotism."

The regular squad was organized at the beginning of the winter term. They had seven teams in the invitational tournament held at State Normal in January. Outstanding Normal victories included the radio debates over radio station WJBC. The team composed of Richard Noble and Donald Deyo won five debates and lost one.

A group of Normal debaters placed first in their division at the Manchester College tourney held at North Manchester, Indiana, on February 22, 23. The Normal negative team won all five of their debates, while the affirmative team won three of their five debates. The negative team was composed of Richard Noble '36, Marcus Bluth '38, and Donald Deyo '35. The affirmative was upheld by Charles Lane '36, Russell Ross '35, and George Scott '36.

The squad also participated in the Iowa City debate tournament held in March. They placed second on this occasion.

The question debated at these tourneys was "Resolved: that all collective bargaining be negotiated by non-company unions, safeguarded by law."

The squad participated in two debates a month during the year, over station WJBC. These debates were under the direction of Dr. Sorenson.

Ward, Arnett, Wood, Mayne, Vitem, Hoffman, Smith
Peters, Meyers, Mr. Sorenson, Clark, Rasmussen

Women's Debate Club

The Women's Debate squad debated the question "Resolved: that the general welfare of the American people is best promoted by democratic collectivism." The squad was organized into a regular class during the winter term. The women studied this question intensively for the twelve weeks.

Dr. Fred S. Sorenson, Director of the Division of Speech Education, coached this group.

The women participated in several inter-class debates on this question. They also participated in several radio debates over station WJBC during Normal hour.

Seven teams of women debaters participated in the annual Invitational Debate Tournament held on the campus in January. The best record made by a Normal University women's team during the tournament was made by the affirmative team composed of Miss Wilma Wood and Miss Virginia Clark with Miss Clara Rasmussen serving as alternate.

At the end of the winter term a team was chosen to represent I. S. N. U. in conference debates. Clara Rasmussen '34, and Ruth Hoffman '38, were the affirmative; Virginia Abbott '36, and Rita Williams '35, upheld the negative. This group participated in six intercollegiate debates.

 Friedrich, Beyer, Campbell, Donna, Strauss, Virgiel, Robbins
 Dale, Ditman, Hewitson, Gossett, Taylor, Haeck, Cunningham, Lashe

Intermediate Teachers' Club

The Intermediate Teachers Club, which was organized in 1933, is composed of students in the Intermediate Curriculum who are eligible for student teaching. It is the purpose of the club to encourage professional attitudes and social contacts on the campus and in the field.

Bi-monthly meetings are held, at which time the necessary business is taken up and very interesting programs are given.

The club has had a number of social functions during the year, beginning with the Initiation Party at the Student Lounge on November 23. At this time fifty-five new members were taken into the club. The Annual Home-coming Luncheon was held at Hotel Tilden on October 27. During the year there have been several informal parties.

Officers for the year were elected as follows:

President .....	Helen Sumner
Vice-President .....	Ruth Swanson
Secretary-Treasurer .....	Evelyn Bloomquist
Corresponding Secretary .....	Frances Bloomstrand

The following chairmen were elected for the fall term:

Social Chairman .....	Virginia O'Connor
Program Chairman .....	Rena Knight
Publicity Chairman .....	Helen Essington

Women's Physical Education Club

The Women's Physical Education Club is composed of all the women in the school who are majoring or minoring in Health and Physical Education. A very interesting program was enjoyed by the members this year. The club met once a month, at which time a business meeting and a social program were held. Each class gave a stunt at four of the business meetings. The regular Homecoming Breakfast was given in honor of the alumnae and was well attended. At Christmas a "kid" party was given. Kid games were played, gifts were exchanged, carols were sung and refreshments were served. Miss Bergland gave a talk at one meeting on "The History of Physical Education." At another meeting Dr. Waldron gave a talk on "The Phillipines," illustrating her talk with costumes which she had collected while teaching there. At another meeting Dr. Rhoda Galloway Yoltan, one of the first women doctors in Bloomington, gave a talk on her early experience in medical and surgical work. The regular June picnic was held as a farewell to the seniors.

By JOHN R. WHITE

The year 1934 was a building year for Coach Howard J. Hancock and his gallant Red Birds. An inexperienced, but game, group of athletes met Coach Hancock early in September to begin a strenuous gridiron campaign.

The 1934 campaigners were represented mainly by first year men, only eight letter-men being available. Eighteen men were lost from the 1933 football squad, eleven of whom were lost through ineligibility and their failure to return to school.

As far as wins are concerned the past football season may be termed a failure but three great things came out of the season: the sportsmanship shown on the part of the administration and the athletic department in forfeiting the Homecoming game with Macomb which Normal had captured 8 to 6. It was later learned that Berry, Redbird tackle, was ineligible because of failure to carry a full term's work in the last period he had remained in school. Another reason for calling the season a success lies in the great 7 to 6 Normal win over Wesleyan. Coach Hancock and his Cardinals accomplished the feat after twenty-seven years of "famine." It was in 1907 that the last Normal win over Wesleyan was registered and to say the 1934 win was sweet is to put it mildly. The third factor that gave the Normalites a chance to rejoice is the brilliant development of the inexperienced players on the squad which gives rise to the belief that the Redbirds will be very powerful in 1935.

The 1934 campaign started inconspicuously at Normal on September 29. The powerful Valparaiso squad from Indiana rolled over Normal to the count of 15-0. Normal held the Uhlans scoreless in the first half, but Karr, Hoosier back, ran 61 yards in the third quarter to score and Smatlack kicked goal. In the last quarter Smatlak scored after the Hoosier team had blocked one of Murray's punts. The other two points came as a result of a safety by Dick Welty, who was tackled behind his goal line. Les Murray did some fine kicking and Fred Boll, Lesniak, Gorens and Dennis looked best for the Teachers.

On October 6, McKendree came to Normal and vanquished the Normalites by a score of 13-7. The Hancockmen were weakened by the loss of Paul Custer and Andrew Jabsen, two great backs who were injured. Normal put on a great last half rally after Wilson had scored and kicked goal for McKendree and Norris had also scored for the Bearcats. Trailing 13-0 Dick Welty faded back and threw a 20-yard pass to La Verne Christensen who raced forty yards to score. Les Murray kicked goal but time was too short for the Cardinals to overcome the Waldorfmens' lead. Captain Harold Dennis, Christensen and "Chap" Boll played great ball for Normal.

Southern Teachers of Carbondale upset a three year jinx and dropped the Cardinals 14-6 on October 13 at the Southerners' "oasis." The Egyptians from Carbondale struck twice in the second quarter and notched fourteen points. The Cardinals counted six points when they blocked one of Holder's punts and one of the Normal linemen recovered on the ten-yard line. "Suds" Reid plunged over for the Normal score. Art Miller, Normal tackle, was injured in the hip and this injury forced him to retire for the season. La Verne Christensen also suffered an injury. Reid and Kile played fine ball for Normal, both appearing as substitutes in the game.

It seems as if the Eureka-Normal game is perennially played in the mud and the past season's game proved to be no exception. The Eureka Christians aided by the mud and their Homecoming throng held the Normal crew to a scoreless tie on October 20 at the Christian county seat. Normal had several good chances to score having the ball on the Eureka one-yard line in the fourth quarter. Herbert Gorens and Harold Dennis played the best ball for Normal. The Birds had a 9-2 advantage in first downs.

The biggest Homecoming throng ever to watch a Normal football team in action arrived for the battle on October 27. Over 5000 people came to help Normal celebrate its great 8-6 victory over the Leathernecks. The Hancock team jumped into a 2-0 lead at the half when Berry and Don Smith blocked Galassis's pass behind his goal line which resulted in an automatic safety. The greatest play of the afternoon occurred on the second play after the half. Dick Welty tore 54 yards down the sideline to score Normal's touchdown and insure the win. Galassi scored the Macomb six point total. Normal made a desperate goal line stand in the last period when Macomb advanced to the three yard line where Galassi fumbled and the ball was recovered by Fred Boll for Normal. Billy Moore, Lesniak, Welty, Boll, and Berry played fine ball for Normal. It was later learned that Berry was ineligible and the voluntary action of Coach Hancock in forfeiting the game was acclaimed in the Little Nineteen schools as an act of fine sportsmanship.

On November 3, the Normal crew battle De Kalb in a reproduction of the Eureka game. The field was a quagmire and neither team could show anything in the way of football. However Andy Jabsen, Paul Custer, Bill Moore, Lesniak, and Captain Dennis did some fine defensive work for the Cardinals.

The young Normal crew began to rise to its best form of the season on November 10, when the Birds administered a sound trouncing to Charlestons's Blue Boys by a score of 13-0. A beautiful grab of Welty's pass by Don Smith gave Normal a 6-0 lead in the first four minutes of play. Fred Boll and Les Murray's running put the ball in position for another touchdown in the fourth quarter and Murray lugged the ball across and later kicked goal giving the Cardinals the game 13-0. Boll and Murray were the offensive threats and Paul Custer and Andy Jabsen did some fine blocking with Billy Moore, Kile and Bates playing wonderful defensive games.

The entire Normal student body turned out on November 17 to watch a great Normal team come back with plenty of fight to win a great 7-6 game from Wesleyan on Wilder field. For the first time in twenty-seven years the Red and White turned the trick and overthrew the powerful Green and White.

Wesleyan scored first on a pass from Benson to McMackin and the Titans settled back to a 6-0 lead. It was here that the great Normal team came to life. Fred Boll ripped the Wesleyan line to pieces and Murray also did some fine running shoving the ball down the Wesleyan 20-yard line. Henry, Wesleyan tackle, intercepted a pass but Kile recovered Benson's fumble on the Wesleyan nine yard line. Boll picked up eight yards and Murray carried the ball over. Boll held the ball and Murray kicked the winning point. Coach Hancock used only thirteen men and all of them covered themselves with glory. After the game souvenirs of the goal posts were cut up and distributed.

The state Normal team was tendered four banquets at the conclusion of the season. Miss Ruth Henline of the English department of State Normal tendered the club a banquet as did Doctor McCormick, Normal Physician. The Optimist Club of Normal honored the team with "Bo" McMillan, head football coach at Indiana University, as the principal speaker. The Athletic Board of Control tendered the warriors a banquet at Fell Hall on December 5 with Clark Shaughnessy, football coach at the University of Chicago, as the leading speaker.

Seventeen men were awarded letters. The letter winners are: Winfiel Bates, Odell; Fred Boll, Decatur; LaVerne Christensen, Dwight; Paul Custer, Bloomington; Captain Harold Dennis, Normal; Andrew Jabsen, Bloomington; Alvin Hansen, Dwight; Robert Kile, Downs; Edward Lesniak, Berlin, Wisconsin; William Moore, Bloomington; Leslie Murray, Normal; Donald Smith, East Moline; Richard Welty, Hoopeston; Herbert Gorens, Lincoln; Harold Stambach, Bloomington; Arthur Miller, Atlanta and Jack Curtis, Normal. Curtis was out for football for four years and was awarded a letter on the basis of faithful service. John Murdock was awarded a manager's letter.

Fred Boll was chosen by his team mates as the most valuable player to the team and as a result receives the Carter Harris Most Valuable Player Award. Boll played brilliantly in his final year both on offense and defense and richly deserves the award.

Leslie Murray and Paul Custer were chosen, at the end of the season, as captains for the 1935 season. Murray has been one of the leading scorers in the conference and Paul Custer is the greatest blocking back ever to wear the Red and White and one of the best blockers in the conference.

Only three lettermen are lost from the squad. Fred Boll, Herbert Adams, and Ex-Captain Dennis are the departing veterans. Great things are expected from the 1935 team.

B Team

Charles "Chuck" Hall
Assistant Coach

State Normal's B team continued its record of no defeats which has extended over a period of three years. The Red Bird Fledglings played but two games this year, two games being cancelled because they conflicted with Normal varsity games. In 1932 the B team won four consecutive games under the guidance of Coach Eugene Hill. In 1933 they won four more games and in 1934 the Junior Varsity won its ninth and tenth victory. Charles Hall, former University of Illinois backfield star and Tom Neill, captain of the Red Birds in 1933, coached the Junior Varsity.

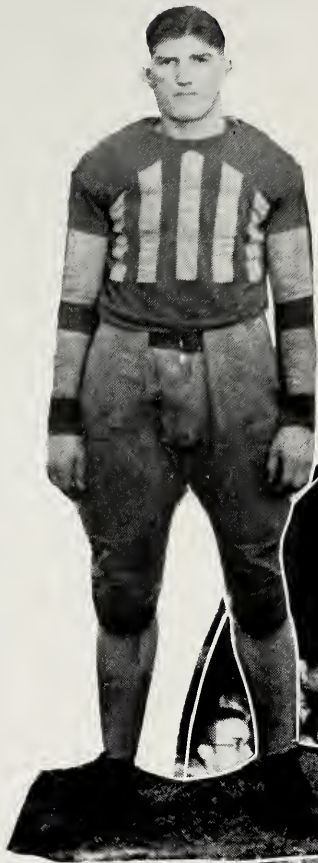

The Jay-Vees defeated Charleston at Normal 7-0 and later defeated the Charleston B team again at Charleston by a score of 7-6. Harley Evans of Hoopston scored the touchdown that insured the Normal victory in the first game and Kenny Allen ran over the touchdown in the second game. Rolly Lyons marked up the needed point in the second game by plunging over the goal line. Guttstein, Hines, Case, Stiegle, Benton, Bennison, Wene, Sutherland, Klein, Allen, H. Evans, Bandy, Sheehan, Lyons, Balding, Sloop, Keller, Buford, and Curtis formed the personnel of the Junior Varsity. The B team were faithful in scrimmage against the Varsity during the entire season and deserve a note of thanks for their faithful service in developing the A squad. The B team has sent several of its players up to the Varsity and has been a very successful experiment at Normal University. The B team boys were guests at the Athletic Board's banquet for Fall sports teams held at Fell Hall on December 5.

1934-35 Basketball

Bowers, Jacobsen, Peterson, Weicker, Deetz (Mgr.)
White, Smith, Barton, H. Adams, D. Adams, Jacquat, Alfeldt

Genuine team play, harmony and a fighting spirit characterized the fine 1934-35 basketball season at State Normal.

Coach Cogdal lost "Pim" Goff and Edward Fitzgerald from the 1933-34 team and the Red Birds' chances for a winning season were not considered bright.

Normal placed its smallest team in years on the floor with Don Adams, Don Smith, and Joe Alfeldt, forwards, Wilbur Barton, center and Captain Herb Adams, Johnny White and Glen Jacquat in the guard roles. These seven men comprised the regular playing personnel.

The Red Birds swept through a ten game conference schedule, winning nine games and losing but one to finish in third place in the Little Nineteen Conference. However this is on a strictly percentage basis, but considering the calibre of Normal's opponents and their impressive showing the Cogdal machine deserved championship consideration. The Little Nineteen championship is merely a newspaper election and no champion is recognized by the State Conference Commission.

The Cardinals were not impressive in the pre-conference season.

On December 12, the Arkansas State quintet invaded McCormick gymnasium and after piling up a big lead, Coach Cogdal inserted many players into the lineup. The Razorbacks put on a rally but the Normal team finished out in front by a 31-30 score.

Two days later on December 14, the Redbirds journeyed to Terre Haute, Indiana to meet the strong Indiana State Teachers. The Hoosiers trounced the Normal clan by a 38-30 score. The game was rough and the small Cardinal team could not cope with huge, rugged Indiana outfit.

The Cogdal clan got back in the win column on December 19, by whipping Oshkosh Teachers on the Normal floor, 32-27. Wilbur Barton hit the basket from all angles ringing up eight baskets and free throws to be the outstanding performer on the court.

After the Christmas holidays the Teachers were in Milwaukee on January 4 and in Oshkosh on January 15. With Glen Jacquat leading the way, Milwaukee was defeated by a score of 35-28. "Wart" collected fifteen points for a nice evening's work. The Cardinals bowed to Oshkosh 31-25 to end the pre-conference season.

On January 10, Coach Cogdal's team served notice on its followers that it could rise to great heights, by defeating the 1933-34 champions—De Kalb. After trailing throughout three quarters of the game, Normal pulled ahead and won out by a 27-23 score. Herb and Don Adams, Jacquat, and White played great ball for the Normalites, White holding Skoglund, star De Kalb guard, scoreless from the field.

In a listless game, Eureka was defeated by a 22-32 score, on January 15. Captain Adams and Wilbur Barton played fine games.

One of the biggest games of the season was the Wesleyan-Normal affair played on January 18 at the McCormick Gymnasium. Captain Adams and his team-mates walloped the Titans by an overwhelming 38-31 score, much to the delight of the overflow crowd of spectators. It was the first time since 1932 that the Redbirds defeated their ancient rivals in basketball. All of the Normal players gave glittering accounts of themselves. After this game the Normal team held undisputed position of first place in the conference, a position which they maintained for the first six weeks of the grind.

The Redbirds played their next two games on the road in the most crucial week of the entire conference season. On January 22, the Cogdalites beat St. Viator 18-16 and on January 26, Charleston was felled, in a bitter game, 31-29. Don Adams and Don Smith played fine games in both struggles.

Normal won its sixth conference victory on January 21, at McCormick Gymnasium, when De Kalb was again defeated 35-26. Johnny White, Glen Jacquat and Herb Adams gave very fine accounts of themselves.

In a non-conference game on February 2, the Indiana Teachers defeated Normal 39-32. The Cardinals were in a slump and had miserable luck on their shots.

The Redbirds showed revamped form and routed St. Viator's for the seventh straight conference win on February 6. Joe Alfeldt led the Normal attack with nine points.

Carbondale administered the sole conference defeat to the Cogdal forces. The game was played in "Little Egypt" and the 200 mile ride plus the red-hot shooting of the Sinoos was too much, and the Normalites were tumbled from the first place in the State Conference by a 49-32 score.

The entire Normal team had a field day on February 13, at the expense of the hapless Charleston Panthers. The Normal team peppered the basket from all angles, and rolled up a 53-36 score on the Eastern Teachers.

The Eureka game scheduled for January 20 was postponed and later cancelled because of a scarlet fever epidemic raging on the Eureka campus.

After a two weeks lay off Normal met Wesleyan in the season's finale. Wesleyan was again defeated by a 26-24 score. Normal's Netters missed many shots and had they been hitting would have annihilated the Titans. It was the last game for Captain Herb Adams, who played a wonderful all-around game. John White and Joe Alfeldt also finished their careers with this game.

Seven letters were awarded by the Athletic Board at the conclusion of the season. Captain Herbert Adams, John White, Joe Alfeldt, Donald Adams, Wilbur Barton, Glen Jacquat and Donald Smith were the men honored.

Coach Cogdal gave a dinner for the basketeers on March 10. At this dinner Wilbur Barton was acclaimed Captain by a unanimous vote.

Herbert Adams, John White and Joe Alfeldt are the men lost by graduation and prospects for the next season are considered bright with Captain-elect Barton, Jacquat, Don Adams and Don Smith back in the fold.

Donald Adams, a junior on the 1935 team, led all of his teammates home in the individual scoring race.

Baseball

There are a number of veterans back for positions. Joe Alfeldt, Gene Rodegheiro and Captain Johnny White are the infielders back and Joe Jacobson, Dick Tate, and Leo Gelsomino are veterans in the outfield. There are three catchers who have won letters in the persons of Glen Jacquat, John Dohm, and John Murdock. Dick Stiegle, a Dunlap product, will probably do the majority of the receiving with Jacquat being shifted to first base.

Dale Cline has taken over Dick Tate's outfield position since an unfortunate injury which occurred to the flashy outfielder in stealing second base during the Wisconsin game. Harold Willson and "Lefty" Alexander are new men showing promise. Marvin Busker, a first baseman from Livingston, Dick McGrew, and Cliff Neatherton who were on the squad in 1934 are also available.

The pitching staff is composed of Bill Aleks of Rockford, Vernon Beier of Cooksville, Ed McCambridge of Bloomington, and Ken Fuller and Ralph Burns of Normal. It is impossible to determine letter winners early in the season but all the above mentioned athletes will figure largely in the season's play.

The Red Birds opened the season auspiciously against the U. of Wisconsin on April fifth at McCormick Field. Bill Aleks, on the mound for Normal, pitched a fine game and was a big factor in beating the Badgers by a 7-6 score. Joe Alfeldt, Aleks, and Dick Tate shared the hitting honors. The victory proved costly, though, in that Tate broke a bone in his ankle.

Cross-Country

By Ralph Deetz

State Normal's 1934 Cross-Country team upheld the hill and dale prestige that has for several years been associated with the representatives of the red and white. The team, coached by Joe Cogdal and led by Robert Foster, made its presence felt in every meet entered and succeeded in capturing the Little Nineteen title for the fourth consecutive year.

Early in September, Coach Cogdal issued the call for long distance runners. Besides Foster, three lettermen returned: Cappy Middleton, Curtis Smith, and Benjamin May. With the loss of Lyle Hutton, Bill Bremer, Gordon Forbes, and Herb Jackson the Cogdalmen went to work with a promising group of Freshmen. Several weeks of strenuous conditioning revealed that the newcomers could take their place with the more experienced runners.

At Milwaukee, the Cogdalmen met their only defeat in dual competition. Captain Robert Foster led the team in placing fifth.

On Saturday, October 20 the Normal team hit their stride and submerged Wheaton by a score of 15-45. James Bush, a Freshman, placed first by running the 3:25 miles course in 18:17.5. R. Smith, A. James, R. Foster, and C. Smith finished after Bush in that order. The time was good considering that the race was run in a downpour of rain.

Bradley furnished the opposition for the Homecoming race run between the halves of the football game with Macomb. Gummerson of Bradley finished in first place followed by A. James of Normal. Normal yielded third place also but captured the next four places to clinch the contest. The order of the finish was: A. James, R. Smith, R. Foster, J. Bush, C. Smith.

Normal showed its strength by placing third at Chicago on November 3. Zepp of Michigan State Normal broke Lyle Hutton's record by running the 3:54 mile course in 18:14.4. Michigan State Normal and Milwaukee State Teachers tied for first place with 45 points. Normal's score added up to 68 points. J. Bush finished in ninth place to outstep the other Normal runners.

The next week the Birdies annexed their fourth consecutive Little Nineteen championship at Peoria. Captain Foster, running on his fourth championship team, finished third to lead the Normal runners. A. James finished sixth, C. Smith, seventh, J. Bush, eighth, K. Middleton, ninth, and George May, tenth. Normal won the meet with 33 points. Bradley was second with 59 points. Charleston finished fourth with 73 points. Wheaton and Illinois College also placed.

The last meet of the season was won from Charleston by the score of 21-34. James Bush broke the course record by stepping the distance of 3:54 miles in the time of 19:29. And Normal is still undefeated in conference dual competition.

Coach Cogdal entertained the squad at his home as the season closed. The lettermen elected Curtis Smith, of Illiopolis, captain for the 1935 season.

The team was further honored by the athletic board at a dinner held at Fell Hall on December 10. Gold track shoes were awarded as a recognition of a championship team.

Tennis

When Coach Hill and Assistant Coach Sweet issued the call for tennis candidates, the largest number of candidates in varsity history reported for the first practice session in McCormick gymnasium. The returning lettermen were Captain Homer Bandy, Herbert and Don Adams, and Rex Darling. Other candidates were Vincent Bick, Robert Nalbach, Bill Odell, Howard Taylor, Dan Snow, John Tierney, Donald Paul, Fred Stuhlman, Richard Wiecker, and Alvin Hansen.

Although Captain Bandy, Don and Herb Adams, Rex Darling, and Howard Taylor were the only men who had had college competition, many of the new men had had considerable experience. Bick was quite a tennis player about St. Louis, having won the St. Louis junior singles championship in 1932. Bill Odell enjoyed an enviable reputation as a tennis player during his undergraduate days at Bloomington High School. Nalbach was intramural singles champion last year, and also played on the winning doubles team. Dan Snow was an experienced tournament player and is eligible for the squad this year, he having gone to Wesleyan for a year. The balance of the squad was of unknown quality, but every one of them was certain to be in the battle for positions on the varsity team. With all these men out for the team, the coaches were confident of another great season.

Normal's tennis teams have been growing more powerful from year to year. Last year the team was undefeated in dual competition. The only defeat came in the state meet when the singles and doubles teams were defeated by Bradley. Only Goff and Sweet were lost through graduation.

The tennis squad of 1934 desired to carry on the good work of the 1933 squad. Their only handicap, however, was the weather. Due to so much rainy weather, the squad had to practice entirely indoors. Therefore, it was necessary to pick the team for the first match with DeKalb without having an opportunity to perform outside.

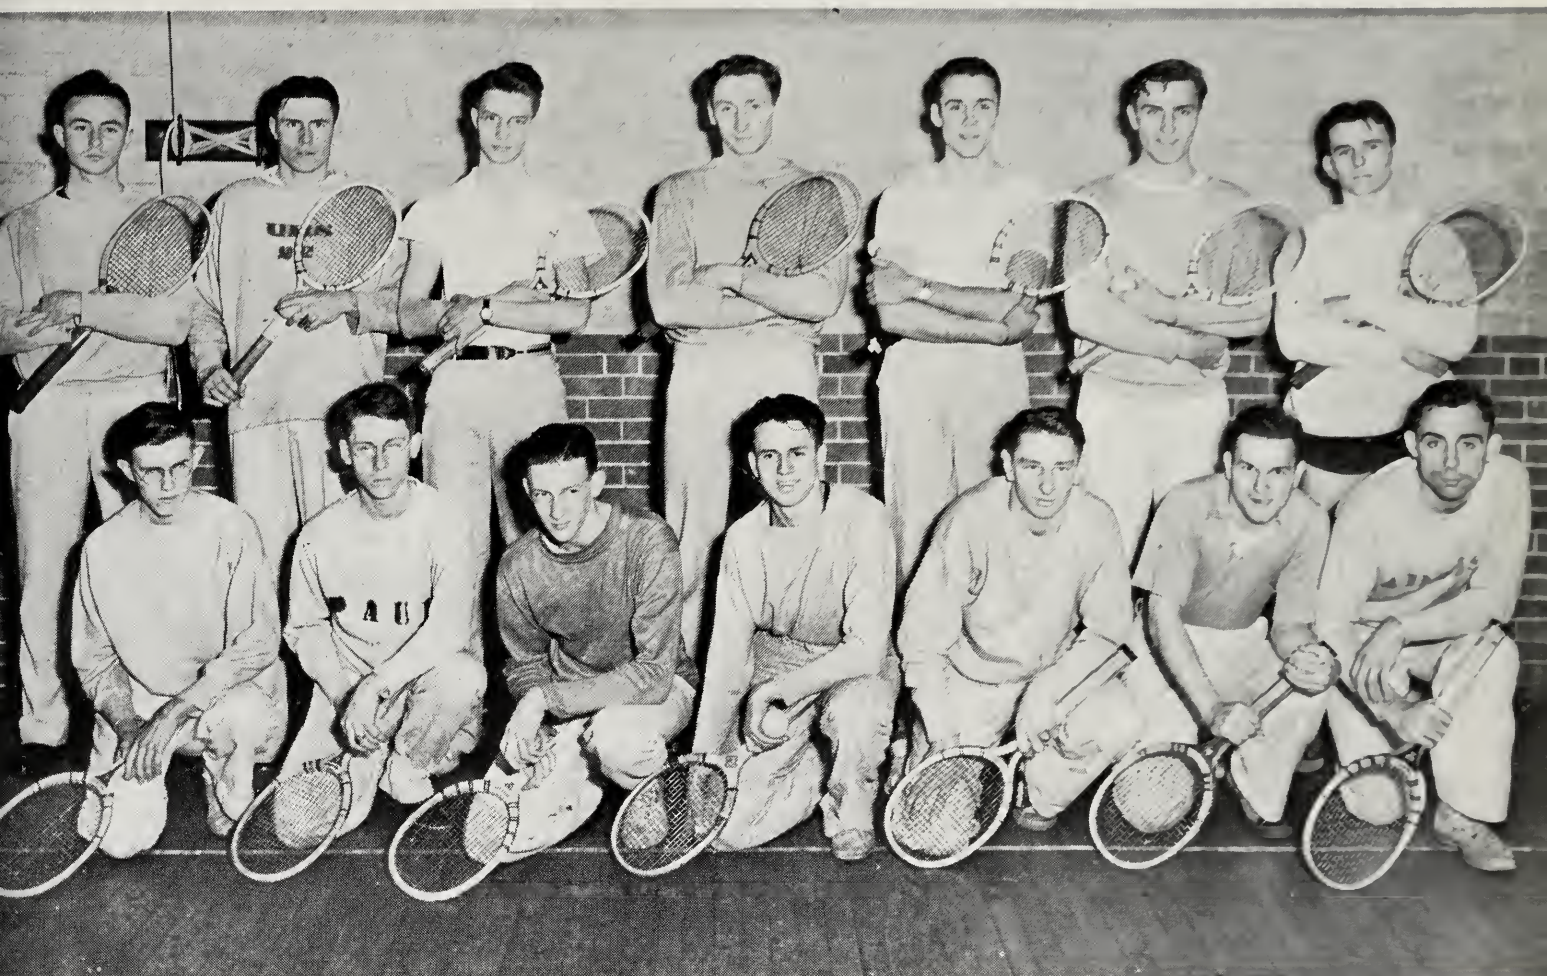

The match was won from DeKalb with a score of 5-2.

Track

One of the largest squads in Normal track history reported to Coach Cogdal at the opening of the outdoor season. Their determination made up for their limited training as was evidenced by the results of the first dual meet. Captain Forbes led his team to Jacksonville on April 27 where they soundly trounced the Blue Boys by a count of 101 1/6 to 29 5/6. The Birds copped twelve of the fifteen first places and scored five 'slams.' Gorens was the high point man with firsts in the dashes and the running broad jump. Gorens, Veach, and Welty finished in that order to 'slam' the dashes in 10:5 and 23.5 seconds. Bob Miller continued to dominate the 440 by leading his team mates, Norton and McReynolds, to the tape in 52.2 seconds. Because of an error in measurement, Forbes was forced to go 905 yards to cop the scheduled half mile run. He finished ahead of Smith and Lang of Normal in two minutes and eight seconds. Bob Foster won the mile in 4:44.6 with R. Smith coming in second. An Illinois man kept A. Miller from finishing second to Barton in the high hurdles, the time being 16.1 seconds. The same thing happened in the low hurdles when Bowers trailed Reid in 26.7 seconds. Bush, the only freshman to win a first place for Normal, negotiated the two miles in ten minutes 46.4 seconds followed by May and Middleton.

The lack of strength in the field events was not so much in evidence this year despite the loss of Freeston, star weight man. Carr, who holds the Teachers College meet record in the pole vault, captured second in his pet event with Hanes and Fasse tied for third. Hanes and Carr then proceeded to tie for first in the high jump. Gorens and Wilson pulled down first and second in the running broad jump, doing better than twenty feet. Art Miller picked up a third in both the shot put and the javelin throw. The latter event was won by W. Maurer with a heave of 172 feet and 5 inches. The Red Bird relay team of Norton, C. Smith, Forbes, and R. Miller turned in a 3:55.9 performance for another first place.

Indoor Track

The indoor track squad was handicapped again this year by an almost complete lack of facilities. Despite this handicap a very successful season reached a climax as the team copped second place honors in the State Conference meet at Naperville on March 23.

Early in the season a few trips were made to Champaign for workouts in the spacious University of Illinois armory. On the basis of the showings made in these trials, a team was selected by Coach Cogdal for the first meet of the indoor schedule, the Armour Relay Carnival, held at the University of Chicago field house on March 16. Against some of the toughest competition in the Middle West the Red Birds scored second in the one mile and two mile relays plus a fifth place in the half mile run by R. Smith for a total of nine points. The two mile team was composed of Forbes, Foster, R. Smith, and C. Smith while Norton, Gorens, Veach, and R. Miller made up the one mile quartet. Captain Gordon Forbes was clocked in 52 flat for the quarter. Other men to qualify were Welty and Gorens in the dashes and Barton and Duesing in the high hurdles. A. Miller in the shot, Barton in the high jump, Carr in the pole vault, and Foster and C. Smith in the middle distance runs all gave a good account of themselves.

Intramurals

By Paul Armstrong

Eugene L. Hill
Intramural Director

This year's intramural program was so varied as to appeal to practically all ranges of abilities and interests. Archery, swimming and tap dancing proved to be the most popular additions to the program. A total of 437 of the 628 men students in school participated in some intramural activity. The percentage of participation, the real basis for the success of any sports program, was 70 as compared with 52 last year. A lot of credit is due Mr. E. L. Hill, intramural athletic director, for offering such an attractive program of activities.

Hobby hours were inaugurated last fall as a new feature of this year's intramural program. These were informal recreation periods, held during omit hours or after school, in which instruction was offered for all those desiring to improve their game or to learn to play a new sport. Golf, swimming, archery, fencing, and tap dancing were included in the hobby hours.

A total of eleven men reported for instruction in golf. Early in the fall the south campus was used for this activity, but as the weather became colder the golfers had to make use of the range in the basement of the Old Castle. Mr. Durwood Boone, State Normal's star golfer, gave his services as instructor. The routine work and management of this activity was handled by Paul Armstrong.

Tap dancing attracted 38 men who reported once each week to Miss Dorothy Harmon for instruction in the art of shuffling those feet. To facilitate instruction the class was divided into two sections, one for beginners and one for advanced students. Mr. Gilbert Veach served as manager of this activity.

Tennis

Archery

Sixty-five potential Robin Hoods performed under the tutelage of Mr. J. E. Clifford. Archery proved to be a very popular activity, and, with tap dancing and swimming, 'stole the show' as far as the hobby hours were concerned. Edward Meadows promoted the archery and Kendrick Martin did likewise for swimming as well as serve as instructor. The latter sport drew 50 men who made the trip to the Y.M.C.A. pool in Bloomington once each week. Despite the handicaps of limited equipment and space, 13 men turned out for fencing once each week in the fall term.

A program of informal free play in touch football displaced the organized competition of the last few years. The activities of the 58 men comprising the teams reporting for play were under the direction of John Allen and John Farber, who also officiated at the games played each Thursday. The drop in the number of participants from 70 to 58 in the last year may be due, in part, to the fact that no championship was awarded.

A tennis tournament was started in the fall but was interrupted so often by inclement weather that it had to be called off before a champion could be determined. Thirty-six men started to play in the first round.

Ping pong provided the first real tournament of the year with 34 men lined up in a straight elimination affair to decide the school champion. Sweet, the defending champion, bowed out of the picture in the semi-final round losing to Wilson. Clif Cozart then proceeded to bag the title by downing Wilson in the finals. Harland King was head man.

A cross-country run was held for the first time last fall as twelve men negotiated the two mile course to set a record. Gordon Forbes, quite a runner himself, assisted by Kenneth Middleton promoted this event. William Herbster bagged all the honors.

Basketball

Basketball got under way early as one schedule was completed in the fall term. Every man in school was eligible with the exception of previous varsity letter winners. Johnny Allen organized and directed the play and conducted an elimination tourney at the close of the league schedules to determine the championship. A total of 34 house teams entered and were divided into eight leagues where round robin schedules were played. The Bobcats were declared champs when they defeated the '301' Club in the finals of the elimination tourney. The winners line-up included Robert Miller, manager, R. Koehler, R. Nalbach, H. Ferry, E. Beckman, J. Bennett, F. Bogner, H. Henry. The losing club was composed of J. Alfeldt, G. Rodegherio, M. Busker, L. Peterson, L. Green, J. Ayres, L. Browning, D. Bedwell, D. Cline, and S. Augustine, manager.

An extended schedule of round robin play was the basketball layout for the winter term. The house team league was continued and an independent league added. The latter had such a large entry list it was necessary to form two sections. All teams representing organizations on the campus formed still another league. The house team league was won by the Logans, composed of W. Aleks manager, W. Bremer, C. Farthing, P. Tierney, D. Snyder, R. Kirkham, R. Livingston, R. Thorpe, and Dunham. The Destructor composed of W. Evans manager, T. Horney, F. Boll, R. Feek, W. Moore, R. McGrew, J. Murdock, H. Evans, and B. Young, and the Isotopes including J. Stotts manager, W. Brown, F. Brown, F. Kile, D. Kile, G. Redden, G. Fisher, F. Ames, and Mason, won the two sections of the Independent league. Three teams tied for the leadership of the organization league. Gamma Phi made up of Deetz, Cozart, Murray, Wilton, Christensen, Gillett, and McDaniel manager; the N Club, composed of Johnson, Norton, manager, Veach, Middleton, Forbes, Duesing, and Mauer; and the P. E. Club with a lineup including R. McGraw, manager, C. Fry, M. Clapper, H. Bishop, Alexander, F. Guttstein, and Lentz were the tying teams.

The elimination tournament to determine the championship included the various league winners plus the second and third place teams in the house league, for a total of eight teams. The P. E. Club, Isotopes, Gamma Phi, and Batchelor quintet all won their first round games; in the semi-finals the P. E. Club and the Isotopes were victorious. Fry and Bishop then led the P. E. Club to a win over the Isotopes for the university championship by a score of 19 to 9. Kenneth Huff, Charles Morris, and McElhiney handled the routine affairs of the entire schedule and tournament.

Volleyball

Volleyball attracted almost a hundred men as 16 teams lined up for competition in three leagues. Five teams made up a class league. The N Club won out in the Independent league with Darley's team second. The house league showed quality rather than quantity with Smith Hall copping the flag. In the three game play-off the N Club won the school championship by defeating Smith Hall two games to one. The winners lineup included Don Adams, Don Smith, Herb Adams, Pim Goff, H. Hanes, M. Carr, F. Schwen, and Stambach. They lost only one game during the entire season. Smith Hall's starting front was chosen from Latham, Swan, Higgins, Bandy, Foster, and the two Herbst boys. The Kohler twins were Mr. Hill's able assistants in the handling of this sport.

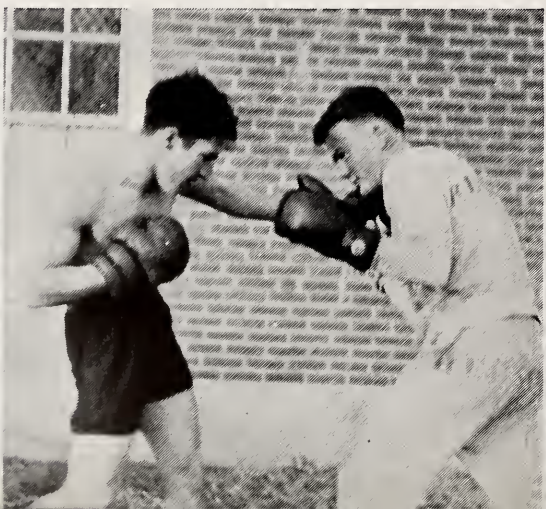

During the winter, the pins on the alleys in the Old Castle were taking plenty of knocks from the intramural bowlers. Maybe it was only a coincidence, but two new sets of pins were purchased in February. Johnny White and Edward Meadows promoted this activity and kept 41 entrants busy for ten weeks before 17 men were chosen for the elimination tournament to determine the school champ. Paul Unzicker rolled up a score of 970 to win over Tierney, who had the high line score of 256 for the season. Maurer, Reuter, Stauffer, Keefe, Alstott, Rogers, Chapman, Van Meter, Bennison, Farthing, Jameson, Barry, Gunning, Yeck, and Snyder. Snyder, Yeck, and Farthing finished in order back of Unzicker.

After a lot of preliminary training the boxers got down to serious business as the championship bouts were started. Five weight classes were represented by an entry list of 19 men. Estes won from Kidd in the finals of the 135 pound class after Rosensteel, Singleton, and Taylor had been eliminated. The 145 pound division developed some real action as "Dusty" Rhodes, the blond boy from Benton, dusted off his opponents as fast as they climbed through the ropes. Knockouts were common as Rhodes, McCannon, Lilly, Chapman, Allen, and Leach paired off for the title. Rhodes won over McCannon in the final bout. Clayton Fry, Ames, and McGregor finished in that order in the 165 pound section. The light heavyweight title went to Leo Gelsimino who out-punched Bates, Jabsen, Barry, and Poe to win. Winfield Bates copped the heavyweight title from Bob Koehler, his lone opponent.

The fact that Normal was represented at the state inter-collegiate meet this year by a varsity wrestling team stirred up interest but decreased the ranks of the intramural grapplers. Gillett won over Meadows in the 118 pound class for the title after disposing of Tuggle, Pentecost, and Newton. The 145 pound division drew six entries, May, Allen, Leach, Rhodes, Cozart, and Lewis. May copped the title by winning from Allen in the finals. J. Olsen won the 155 pound title by flooring K. Martin after Propeck had been eliminated. The 165 pound crown fell to McDaniels when he defeated Omhart. Fry also 'ran.' Seven men lined up in the light heavyweight class to provide the toughest competition of the meet. R. Kile was declared the winner with Lesniak second in a field that included Ball, Buehler, Bates, Bowles, and Stambach. Bob Koehler won the heavyweight championship from Miller, Reuter, and Arnold.

Normal Ranks Second in U. S. Teacher's College Enrollment

Fresno, California, School Has Largest With
1704 Students

The fact that Illinois State Normal university ranks second in the list of teachers colleges of the United States in the number of full time students enrolled was recently learned from a survey made by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati. The results of his survey were published in the December 15, 1934, issue of School and Society. This list includes all universities and senior colleges on the list of "accredited institutions" in the United States.

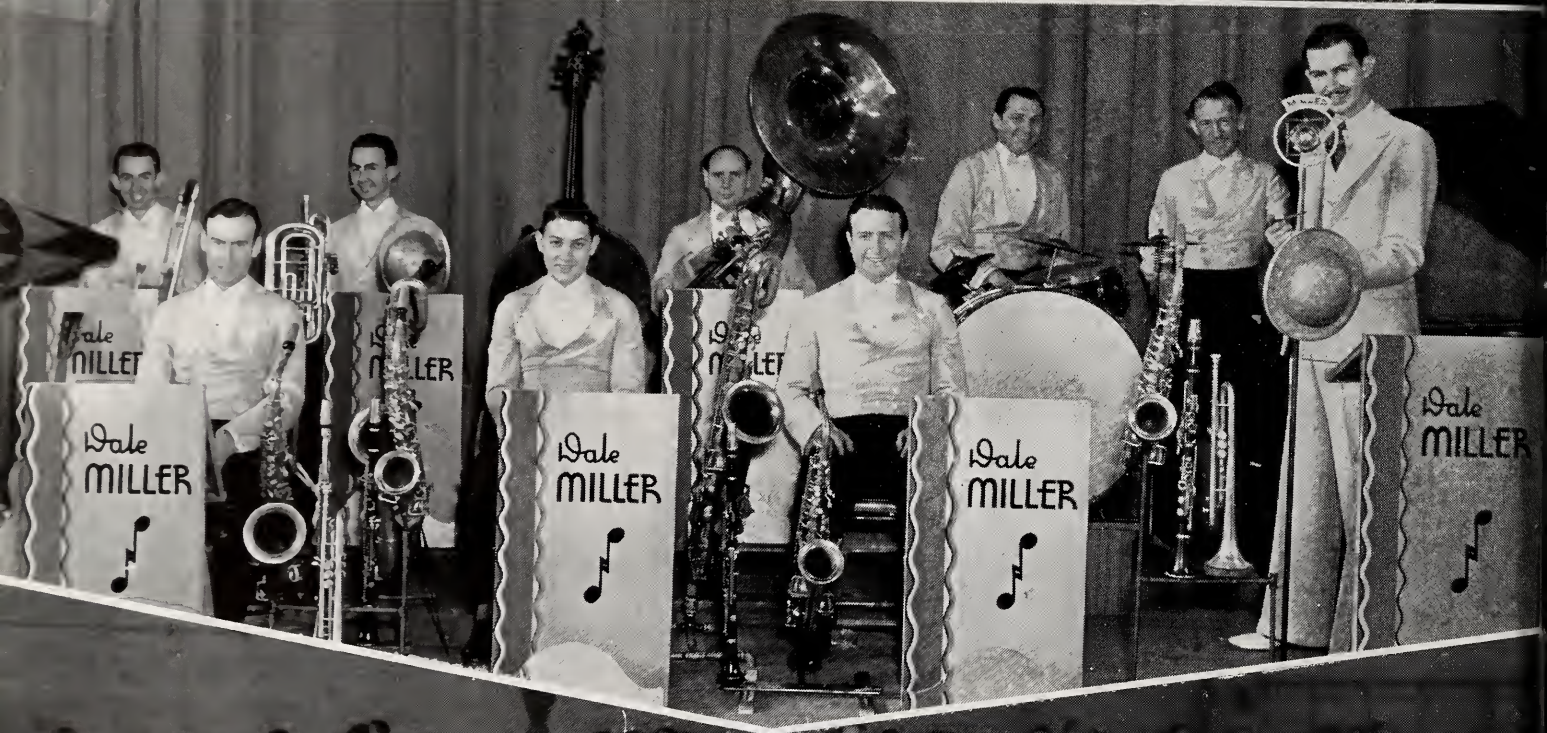

At Illinois State Normal university there were 1422 students enrolled during the fall term when the survey was made while at Fresno State Teachers College in California, the teachers college that ranked first, there were 1704 full time students. Other teachers' colleges that ranked high in the number of full time students enrolled were Texas State Teachers' College at Denton, Texas, with 1525; Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, with 1478; Kentucky State Teachers' College, Bowling Green, with 1426, and Illinois Southern Normal University at Carbondale with 1404 full time students.

Charlie Agnew and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the Homecoming dance Saturday, October 27, and Johnny Hamp, who was signed up last week, will entertain the homecomers Friday night. His announcement was made by R. W. Fogler, chairman of the dance committee, yesterday.

Charlie Agnew has been heard over a national chain of broadcasting stations for the past two years as the feature of the Yeast Foam program, and has just left the Blackhawk Cafe in Chicago. His band is gaining a wide reputation as a singing and novelty organization comparable to Fred Warring's Pennsylvanians, according to the Music Corporation of America, his sponsor.

Johnny Hamp's orchestra is expected to be one of the coming favorites in the Chicago area, said Mr. Fogler, and is highly recommended by the Music Corporation. The orchestra was organized eight years ago at the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City and has since held numerous engagements over the entire country. A long stay of Chicago and engagements at the Congress Hotel in Coanut Grove and the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles are the highlights of a long series of important contracts listed by the Music Corporation, also the sponsors of this band. The band's well equipped and are unusually versatile in presenting a variety program suitable to everyone's tastes.

The admission of 55 cents per person will be charged again this year, said Mr. Fogler.

International Debate

Puns, twisted analogies, and wise cracks marked the fourth international debate, held in Capen auditorium. The Englishmen, David Schole and J. Hirschfield, London University, upheld the affirmative of "Resolved that pacifism is the truest form of patriotism." Normal was represented by Donald Deyo and Clifford Scott.

The verbal, non-decision tilt was marked by the personal comments of the English gentlemen as they matched argument for argument with the Normal polemics. Stating that the future life of the world depended upon the denoucal of war by all people, the English controvertists asserted that nations would not die for their country but "with their country."

Mr. Deyo and Mr. Scott contended that pacifism was not the truest form of patriotism because defense of one's own nation was the primary requisite for devotion to a nation.

Following the debate a reception was held in Fell Hall. Interesting informal speeches were given by Mr. Schole and Mr. Hirschfield concerning British social, athletic, and academic activities in their native country.

The Jesters, local dramatic organization on the Illinois State Normal University campus, presented THE LIGHT OF THE STAR for their annual Christmas performance. The play, an original dramatization of the birth of Christ, was written especially for the Jesters by Miss Janet K. Smith, sponsor of the organization. Miss Smith's arrangements of the music used were presented by the Glee Clubs and a woodwind choir. The Jesters plan to use "The Light of the Star" alternately with John Baird's arrangement of "The Nativity," a York Cycle play, for their annual Christmas program.

The Late Christopher Bean

Under the direction of Miss Mabel Clare Allen, Sidney Howard's THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN was presented to the homecomers on October 26, 27 and 28. The play concerns the grasping Haggett family, their maid, Abby, and a dead artist's pictures. The part of Abby was triple cast with Mariada Duesing playing Thursday night, Dorothy Sternberg Friday night, and Virginia Abbott Saturday night. The remaining roles were double cast with Richard Noble and Roy Thompson playing Dr. Haggett; Clara Rasmussen, Josephine Donna, Mrs. Haggett; Virginia Gardner, Ida Margaret Lewis, Ada Haggett; Julia Bischoff and Verna Brock, Susan Haggett; Clifford Scott and Charles Hamm, Warren; Edwin Rakow and Robert Turner, Davenport; Richard Gresheim and Donald Holley, Rosen. Herman Stoltz played the part of Tallant for all three nights of production.

Hazel Kirke

On March 13 and 14 the Normal University Theatre was open to the public for a gala revival of the drama HAZEL KIRKE, by Steele Mackaye. The play, a sensational success of 1880, was sponsored by the Jesters, and was under the superb direction of Miss Dorothy Sternberg, assisted by Mr. Clifford Scott. The leading roles were sustained by Miss Virginia Clark in the role of the delightful heroine, Hazel Kirke; and Mr. Ned Parret portraying the noble character of Arthur Carrington, Lord Traver. Aided by the artistry of the Misses Edna Lohman, Virginia Abbott, Mariada Duesing, and Geneva Allen, and the splendid talent of the Messrs. Donald E. Deyo, Robert Millay, Wilson Stampe, Paul Hudelson, and others, these two artists presented one of the most outstanding productions of the year.

Women's Debate

The women's debate team was composed of Ruth Hoffman, '38, and Clara Rasmussen, '35 affirmative; and Virginia Abbott, '36, and Rita Williams, '35, negative. Although they had had little intercollegiate experience previous to the conference season, they placed well in the upper bracket at the Waukesha Pi Kappa Delta convention, and in the conference debates. The question for debate was "Resolved: that democratic collectivism will best promote the general welfare of the people of the United States."

Miss Rasmussen and Miss Hoffman defeated Monmouth College at Normal and lost to Rosary College, River Forest, and to North Central College at Naperville.

Miss Abbott and Miss Williams lost to Eastern Illinois State

Teacher's College and to Greenville College. They defeated Olivet College. During the Normal invitational tournament, they defeated Wheaton College and at Waukesha were victorious over Western Illinois State Teacher's College.

Miss Abbott and Miss Hoffman will undoubtedly bring recognition to State Normal in forensics. Miss Abbott will be a senior next year and Miss Hoffman a sophomore. For inexperienced debaters their record is excellent.

Miss Rasmussen and Miss Williams are members of this year's graduating class.

Men's Debate

The men's debate squad placed first at the fourth provincial biennial convention of Illinois-Wisconsin province of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity. The convention was held at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wisconsin, on April 1-3. Debating the question "Resolved: that all collective bargaining be carried on by non-company unions safeguarded by law," the Normal men won seven of eight debates.

During the convention, the affirmative team composed of George L. Scott, '36, and Ivan Rehn, '37, were undefeated. They met Carroll College, Ripon College, and Illinois Wesleyan University.

The negative team, composed of Marcus Bluth, '36, and Donald Deyo, '35, defeated Western State Teacher's College and DePaul University. They lost to Monmouth College.

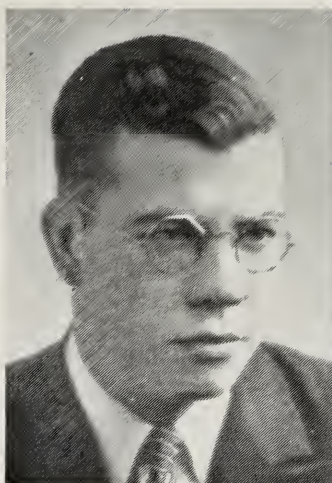

In a three way tie, Illinois State Normal University affirmative men met Monmouth, and the negative men met Ripon. Both teams won their championship debates, thereby placing first in the tournament. This is the first time that Normal men debaters have won such recognition in a Pi Kappa Delta convention.

During the conference season Mr. Scott and Mr. Rehn defeated Shurtleff College and Western State Teacher's College. They lost to St. Viator College.

The negative team was victorious over Eastern Illinois State Teacher's College and Greenville College. They were defeated by Wheaton College.

The record of these men shows that they have been outstanding in their debating. Their records at the several tournaments held at Normal, at Manchester, Indiana, and at Iowa City, as well as their convention work and conference debates, are the finest Normal debaters have enjoyed for many years.

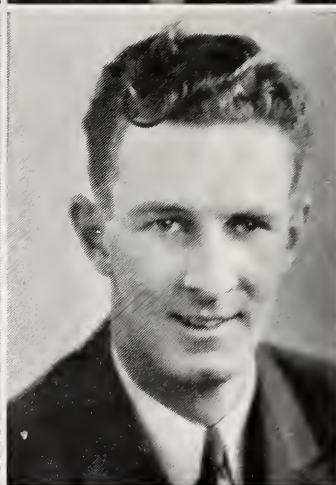

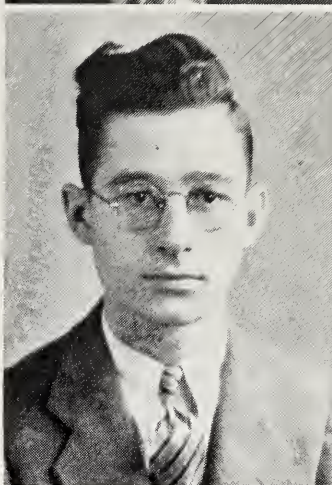

Mr. Deyo and Mr. Rehn will graduate, but Mr. Bluth and Mr. Scott will probably form the nucleus of next year's forensic group at Normal University.

Parties, Politics, and the Student

By Hon. James A. Farley
(Chairman, Democratic National Committee)

(This is the first in a series of articles on the program of the major political parties and their relationship with the college student of today written especially for The Vidette and the Associated Collegiate Press. The second of the series, to appear in The Vidette two weeks from today, will be written by Roy M. Harrop, national chairman of the Farmer-Labor Party.—Editor's Note.)

I know that it is customary to tell the young men and women that the nation is their inheritance and that it will devolve on them, before the passage of many years, to run this government of ours and to charge themselves with the destiny of the country.

I would like to amend this rather trite declaration. It seems to me that NOW, and not merely the future, represents the opportunity of youth. It is a time of change—not a change in our system of government or a change in our Constitution—but a departure from old processes, a recasting of method consequent to new situations and new problems.

You may notice, if you read the outcries of our Republican opponents, that no inconsiderable part of their criticism is directed toward the presence in the government of men and women comparatively young. An perhaps, you young college student may note the parallel of these times with the strenuous period at the birth of the Republic. One would think, he listened to Republican statesmen old in years and ancient in ideas, that our great President had gone into the highways and by-ways to dig out the infants to aid him and advise him in the conduct of the government through a period of great stress.

Fortunately, most of these contemporary figures, who are as out of date in their governmental theories as those represented in the oil paintings with their old-fashioned clothes and periwigs, have been retired by the people. Fess of Ohio; Smoot of Utah; Watson of Indiana; Arthur Robinson of the same state; Moses of New Hampshire; and many others have been replaced by able, energetic Democrats who are in step with the spirit of the time.

The college youth of the nation played a great part in the retirement of these reactionaries who reigned on the political stage so long before the period when their usefulness ceased. It was the youth of the country, with fresh ideas, with impulse at the helm, helpless, drifting order had dominated this country for a few years, who had the courage to lead the economic wreck into which the country had been permitted to and who made possible the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt and last November gave his administration the most complete endorsement ever received by a President of the United States since the early days of the republic.

It was not by accident alone that the towering figure in Democratic politics today reached their high goals. More important was the zeal to be of service to their country. Men do not gain the higher ranks of our government simply because of the desire for power or a place in history. Occasionally, of course, somebody gets there by accident, but in 99 cases out of a hundred they achieve these high places because what they have shown in capacity and in public interest has been so impressive that the people have been willing to accept what the record shows as a title to promotion.

Party politics of the most practical kind is necessary in a nation committed to the two-party system. Organization is the keynote to party success. But all the activities of the politician, all the expensiveness of election strategy amounts to little unless the candidate for whom they are performed

Student Council Gives Decisions Concerning Annual Election May 7

Final decisions on the school elections to be held Tuesday, May 7, were made at a meeting of the Student Council Wednesday, April 10. The matter of dividing the honors for editors of student publications was voted down by the Council; similarly the selection of an advertising manager in the general election met with their disfavor, and it was decided that the position should be appointive by the business manager.

It was finally agreed that the following officers were to be filled this year:

Index, editor and business manager, Vidette, editor and business manager,

Hope to Publish History of School as Part of Celebration

Three-quarters of a century ago the first group of teachers to be graduated from Illinois State Normal University listened to their Commencement day speakers in the then unfinished Main building. To commemorate fittingly the seventy-fifth anniversary of this event, plans are rapidly under way to make the Diamond Jubilee of the first graduating class of Normal University known throughout the entire country, according to Dr. Chris A. De Young, chairman of the committee on publicity for this anniversary program.

Committees Appointed

Although most of the preparations are still in the embryonic stage, committees have been appointed, and are working to acquaint the graduates of Normal the country over of the celebration. Prof. C. A. Harper is the general chairman. Members of other committees are Miss Mabel Claire Allen, chairman of the Pageant committee; Prof. T. J. Lancaster, chairman of the Alumni committee; Prof. M. J. Holmes, chairman of the committee of Historical Exhibits and Community arrangements; and Dr. C. A. De Young, chairman of the Publicity committee. Faculty members, students, townspeople are to be drafted into personnel of the committees.

Main Events June 7-13

The main events of Commencement week, from Friday, June 7, through Sunday, June 13, will climax the jubilee. Sherwood Forest, the site of last year's exercises, will be the natural point from which the 75th class will be graduated; Old Normal, the oldest building in use in the United States for the purpose of training teachers, will be prominent in the background.

A second major project to be undertaken by the committees at work is that of a pageant to be sponsored by students and faculty to celebrate the diamond anniversary in a dramatic fashion. Miss Mabel Claire Allen is in complete charge of this project.

The collecting of a series of historical exhibits is hoped to be the genesis movement to develop a permanent museum of Normal trophies and that will be of general interest to students, alumni, and community. Various displays in buildings on campus and in the city of Normal planned by the committee is expected.

Hope to Publish History

It is also hoped, Dr. De Young said, that Prof. Harper's history of Normal University will be published in conjunction with the entire celebration. This vast enterprise is not limited in interest to only the group being graduated under these unusual circumstances. Special recognition will be given to those members of the faculty who are retiring this year after serving the institution for a long period of years. The community of Normal, growing up as it did around Normal University and being closely identified with the school, will figure largely in the jubilee. This group will be especially interested in the historical exhibits on display.

Still another large group vitally interested in this program is the alumni organization. None of the original graduating class survives, of course, but many of the old graduates will return to the campus on this occasion. Reminiscences in many cases have been scheduled, and tentative plans have been made for a banquet for this alumni group. Many distinguished alumni are being asked to come and help do Old Normal honor through the medium of leading educational magazines and other publicity that is national in scope.

Smith Hall Spring Dance to Be Featured April 26

The Smith-Hall spring dance will be held Friday evening, April 26, with the music of Al Grabs orchestra.

The Duncan and Citron dance team, a new and popular team of the campus, will be the headline act of the floor show, presenting their exhibition, "Chain Dance." The entertainment will include other interesting acts.

The tickets for the dance may now be purchased at the Co-op or from any resident of Smith Hall at the price of 25c for each couple. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold.

at this assembly will incite in the student body some new type of spirit and feeling.

Second Annual Blackfriar Production Under Way

"Brainstorm," an original musical comedy written and directed by John R. Higgins, '30, and Joseph H. Citron, '38, will be presented by the Blackfriars, men's dramatic fraternity, in Capen auditorium, May 13, as their annual production.

Music and dance scores are original, being composed and arranged by Blackfriar members. Every member of the organization will be connected with the show.

Dancing and orchestral rehearsals have already begun. Committee members are at work "Brainstorming," according to reports, will surpass last season's production "My Old Man."
